BIG STEEL MILLS CLOSED BY STRIKE

GEORGE SIXTH ACCLAIMED IN SOLEMN RITES

LITTLE PRINCESS, 6, IS HUMAN NOTE IN CEREMONY

BY FRANK M. KING

London, May 12 (AP)—A thousand years of history lived and moved in solemn splendor to crown George the Sixth in hallowed Westminster Abbey today.

Outside London's massed millions cheered along a six-mile royal route from Buckingham Palace.

But it remained for a six-year old girl to humanize the whole spectacle.

Margaret Yawns

Among the great of mighty Britain and envoys from the world, Princess Margaret Rose, youngest daughter of King George and Queen Elizabeth, was just a little girl.

Untouched by solemn pageantry, she just sat back and enjoyed it all until she got tired and then she yawned widely and openly right at the venerable and august Archbishop of Canterbury.

Princess Elizabeth, her 11-year-old sister and heiress presumptive of the throne, already is queenly and stately. She watched with quiet dignity and nudged Margaret to be quiet.

But the little girl wiggled her ears, tickled her sister, flicked a service book and fidgeted in her seat. Finally she yawned, put her elbow on the front of the royal box and seated her head as she watched.

Ropes of Diamonds

Elizabeth sat next to Queen Mary, Margaret next to the aunt and with not too much attention from her regal grandmother, who, in the splendor of her massed jewels, five ropes of diamonds, was the most impressive woman in the Abbey.

Queen Mary, mother of abdicated Edward and the newly crowned George, appeared the bulwark of the monarchy. Everywhere she was acclaimed with an added respect that marked her as one apart, beloved of her people.

As a young woman she had watched the coronation of Edward VII; just 26 years ago she had been crowned in the same Abbey with her husband George V, and with the young Edward there to see what would have been his destiny. Now she was reported leading the fight against government wishes that no member of her family attend the marriage of Edward, who sat with his beloved Wallis Warfield in a French chateau and listened by radio to the empire pageant.

George Nervous

The new king seemed nervous during the opening stages of the long service, but appeared to gain confidence as the ceremony progressed. Both he and Elizabeth were solemn, pale and unsmiling while in the abbey.

And while the well rehearsed coronation was solemnized a half

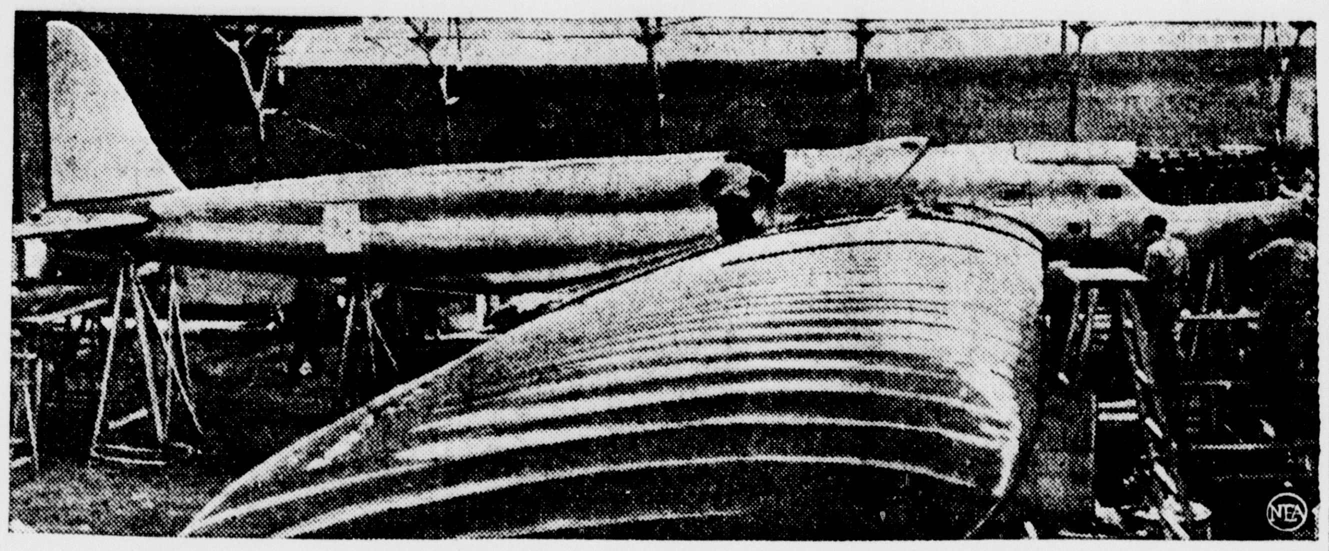
Gigantic Stride in Aviation, "Made in Japan"



A non-stop range of 10,000 miles is claimed for the new aerial giant above, just completed by the Aircraft Institute of Tokyo Imperial University and made entirely of Japanese materials. It is expected to fly for 80 hours on a single fueling, the gasoline tanks having a capacity of 1500 gallons.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY URGED IN HOME

Housewives Should Get a Break, Declares Mrs. Roosevelt

New York, May 12. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt advocated an eight hour day for housewives tonight. And, she added:

"I sometimes think that the wife who stays at home, and carries on all the work in the household, should be paid a definite salary, for she earns it without any question.

The remarks were made in a radio discussion between Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Rose Schneiderman, secretary of the state labor department and president of the Women's Trade Union league.

Miss Schneiderman raised the question of domestic employment, asserting the country heretofore had depended on immigrants as ... but now a number of American girls were entering the field.

"But I don't believe," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "that American girls are going to be willing to go into domestic service unless better working conditions prevail."

Miss Schneiderman expressed a belief that working women who also have responsibilities at home "need improved conditions most."

"And I don't think there is any question," Mrs. Roosevelt responded, "that a woman who works to give her children the necessities and some of the advantages of life should have her work day limited to eight hours."

ON RELIEF, GOES TO CORONATION

Husband Held in Detroit for Illegal Entry from England

Detroit, May 12. (AP)—Harry Crocker, who was removed from the welfare roll when his wife, Violet, left to attend the coronation in London, was arrested today by immigration officers who charged that he was a British subject and had entered the United States illegally.

Inspector John J. Zurbrick, in charge of the district immigration office, said a warrant for Crocker's deportation would be sought.

Russell A. Dolan, a welfare official, said they would seek a warrant for Crocker's arrest on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses if he is not deported.

The Crocker family was deprived of relief when it was learned that Mrs. Crocker, a native of England, was preparing to go to the coronation. She said relatives in England had sent her funds.

G. R. Harris, welfare superintendent, said investigation disclosed that the Crockers had received $199 in relief since Jan. 1, that Mrs. Crocker had misrepresented her incomes from boarders and odd jobs, and that Crocker obtained employment with the department of public works and remained on the welfare rolls.

Catholic Population Increased 2,305,106

New York, May 12 (AP)—The official Catholic directory for 1937, published this week, reports the Catholic population of the United States and its possessions at 20,959,134, an increase of 2,305,106 in ten years.

The total number of priests now was set at 31,649, an increase of 541.

Ambassador to Germany Called 'Scandal Monger'

Washington, May 12. (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho called Ambassador William E. Dodd a "disgrace" and a "scandal monger" today after the envoy to Berlin suggested that if the Roosevelt recovery program is defeated a Fascist dictatorship, financed by a "billionaire," may rise in the United States.

The diplomat had cited Borah's 1919 fight against the League of Nations as an instance of "anti-democratic" movements defeating the will of the people.

A movement to recall Dodd from Germany and summon him before a senate committee for questioning gained headway. Senator Nye (R-N.D.) expressed the opinion that Dodd's statements were "primarily propaganda" for the Roosevelt proposal to revamp the supreme court.

Calling Dodd's remarks improper, Nye said.

"He should be required to name the 'billionaire' he said he was told was ready to back an American dictatorship."

Dodd's pronouncement, in which he said that James Monroe and James Madison once joined Chief Justice John Marshall in a "fight against democracy," stirred Borah to say:

"I haven't read Professor Dodd's statement. I was told he indulged in attacked upon the integrity and honor of some of the revolutionary fathers. I do not propose to descend to the level of reading the outpouring of such an irresponsible scandal monger."

Dodd's thesis was that in the past the courts, congressional minorities, or party splits have often beaten reforms desired by the people. He contended that if the Democratic party breaks up now, forces opposed to popular rule may take advantage of the split to make "a Huey Long" dictator.

Representative Fish (R-N.Y.) told the house today he thought Dodd should be recalled to testify to the senate and house "as to who is the man who is going to give $1,000,000,000" to establish a dictatorship.

He made the suggestion during an attack on President Roosevelt's court proposal, which he said was "one step toward Fascism."

FLIERS RETURN OVER ATLANTIC

Merrill and Lambie Set for Takeoff from England Today

Southport, England, May 12 (AP)—Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie, American trans-Atlantic flyers, said tonight they expected to take off from Birkdale sands near here late tomorrow for their return flight to New York.

After finding conditions satisfactory for a take-off they motored back to Liverpool to get their plane. They had arrived at Speke airfield, Liverpool, in the afternoon after a two-hour flight from Croydon airfield, London.

Pictures of the coronation which the Americans will take back were being rushed here by automobile. A London air transport company decided against flying the films here when it learned rain and mist blanketed all England and Scotland. Three planes flying coronation pictures to northern cities were forced down.

Merrill and Lambie flew from New York to Croydon May 9 and 10, carrying pictures of the Hindenburg disaster.

Flood Control Cost Runs Into Billions

Washington, May 12 (AP)—The house flood control committee estimated today that satisfactory national system of control projects would cost "billions of dollars."

The committee recommended house adoption of a resolution to direct the secretary of war to draw up a program of flood control, development of hydroelectric power, water and soil conservation.

In a report containing that recommendation, the committee said:

"The extent and vastness of such a program is obvious. The general welfare is involved and flood control is acknowledged to be not only a national problem, but one of the major problems demanding solution and for which the federal government must accept full responsibility for appropriate legislation."

Woman Defendant In Alienation Suit Faints Fourth Time

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—Miss Laura Strittmatter, defendant in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit, collapsed in recorder's court today for the fourth time during her trial, delaying Judge John V. Brennan's charge to the jury.

Opposing counsel were completing their final arguments when the defendant slumped to the floor from her chair. She was carried into the judge's office and the jury was dismissed until tomorrow morning.

Judge Brennan will deliver his charge to the jury then and the case may reach the jurors by noon.

President Returns To Capital Friday

Fort Worth, Tex., May 12. (AP)—After a night and day of rest and recreation at the rambling home of his son Elliott near Benbrook, President Roosevelt ended his two weeks southwestern vacation today and headed homeward.

His special train was ready early tonight to take him back to Washington via St. Louis and Indianapolis. He will arrive at the White House Friday morning and arrange week-end conferences with legislative leaders on a variety of subjects.

"Behind the Scenes"

Economists Say Prices Must Go Down

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—The influential administration group which has waged a preventive war against price inflation continues, off the record, to prophesy trouble.

These viewers-with-alarm are encouraged by what they consider the healthy effect of several presidential gestures and measures to discourage price increases. They believe that these and other factors have checked speculative buying and kept down or lowered commodity prices. The price of copper, for instance, has declined and it is widely believed here that what was to have been another steel price increase has been headed off.

Various White House advisers, however, will continue to urge further action. It is likely that Roosevelt before long will move toward a reduction of certain tariff duties which would affect prices of protected products considered by economists here to be "out of line." In this connection, watch for news of the future of the copper import tax which will lapse in June unless something is done about it.

Much Installment Buying

An easing of European war tension, liquidation of foreign-owned securities here and talk of gold price reduction are believed to have had an effect on the commodity markets, as well as administration efforts.

But there is alarm over a big incease in installment selling, which reached $9,000,000,000 in 1936 as compared with only

SENATE MOVE FOR ECONOMY IS SQUELCHED

112 MILLION VOTED FOR TVA DAM IN KENTUCKY

Washington, May 12 (AP)—The current movement to curb federal spending lost its first real test in the senate today by a 46 to 29 vote authorizing construction of a $112,000,000 TVA dam at Gilbertsville, Ky.

The ballot ended a day and a half of heated debate on spending. On the roll call the bulk of the Democratic majority approved an early start on construction of the dam, which is expected to require an annual outlay of $15,000,000 until completed.

Permanent CCC Favored

Meantime economy advocates won a round at a session of the senate appropriations committee. It slashed $60,000,000 from a proposed $500,000,000 fund for soil conservation payments to farmers, and cut $500,000 from funds for forest purchasers by the agriculture department.

After much talk of economy, the house voted 385 to 7 against President Roosevelt's request for a permanent civilian conservation corps. It sent to the senate instead a bill calling for a two-year extension of the CCC. Shortly thereafter the senate labor committee favorably reported an administration bill for a permanent CCC to cost $350,000,000 annually.

Relief Fund Boosted

Strong indications developed late in the day that the house appropriations committee would approve $1,500,000,000 requested by Mr. Roosevelt for relief in the next fiscal year.

Acting Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) announced the committee would meet tomorrow to receive a sub-committee recommendation that the relief fund be held at $1,000,000,000. The full committee had decided earlier in the day to postpone its meeting until after the president returns from his gulf fishing trip on Friday.

Influential house members said the change in arrangements could mean only that a nose count had shown enough strength in the committee to put over the $1,500,000,000 request.

Fought to Last

Shortly after approving the Gilbertsville dam, the senate passed the deficiency bill carrying appropriations of $81,646,443 and sent it back to the house for action on amendments.

One of the amendments, if concurred in by the house, would permit the Tennessee Valley authority to begin construction of the dam during the next fiscal year, which begins July 1, out of its $40,000,000 general appropriation. No specific sum was carried for the dam but TVA officials estimated $2,700,000 could be allotted to the project.

Senator Clark (D-Mo) fought to the last ditch against the dam authorization, contending the money "might be used better elsewhere" for flood control.

Firestone Builds Plant In Detroit

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—James Hale, village clerk of suburban Riverview, said tonight that the Firestone Tire and Rubber company has purchased a 90-acre tract near Grosse Isle and plans to construct a plant to manufacture miscellaneous rubber products.

No further information was available here. Riverview is on the Detroit river several miles south of the Ford Motor company's main plant on River Rouge.

Soldiers Rush To Slaughter; Bilbao Stands

Toledo, Spain, May 12. (AP)—Heavy government attacks against historic, insurgent-held Toledo developed today into a mass offensive in which, insurgents said, the attackers suffered "unprecedented slaughter."

Government prisoners estimated their dead in the campaign at more than 3,000, with total casualties not calculated, insurgent reports said.

Waves of government infantry charged insurgent positions south of the Tajo river, as a climax to four days of fighting.

Insurgents clung to positions they took four days ago on the Merida highway, west of Toledo.

Insurgents braced their lines tonight along a six-mile front south of the Tajo. Estimates of government troops in the offensive ranged from 18,000 to 22,000 men.

No-Man's-Land was covered with dead and wounded after a terrific battle yesterday. Squads from both armies roamed the area in the night looking for wounded.

FOOD SUPPLY LOW

Bilbao, Spain, May 12. (AP)—Insurgent airplanes dumped more than 100 bombs into the suburbs of harassed Bilbao today but did not fulfill Gen. Emilio Mola's threat to blast the Basque capital to bits.

Terror stricken inhabitants, mindful of the insurgent northern commander's warning he would bombard the city "without mercy" if it did not surrender by today, ducked for cover three times as nine bombing planes and seven pursuit planes roared over Bilbão.

Several gasoline tanks were set afire and nearby buildings were destroyed. Clouds of dark smoke billowed over the city.

(Mola's men pushed forward from the east to a point six miles from Bilbao, insurgent reports said.)

With more than 300,000 persons packed into Bilbao, food supplies again were running low as those recently brought in by British and French ships neared exhaustion.

PARIS REVEALS ASSASSIN PLOT

Leader of Balkan Ring Under Arrest; False Passport Found

Paris, May 12. (AP)—Police believed a plot against dignitaries attending the London coronation may have been broken up today with the arrest of a member of the notorious Ustachi band of assassins.

Agents of the French Surete Nationale disclosed the arrest over the week-end of Stephen Marusic, whom they described as one of the leaders of the Balkan ring to which the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia in 1934 was attributed.

He was seized on a false passport charge, and a search of his hotel room revealed "interesting documents," the agents said.

A heavy guard of Yugoslavian detectives waited here tonight to escort Prince Paul of Yugoslavia home when he returns to Paris from the London ceremonies.

Government agents said they were investigating the possibility members of the assassination band came to Paris in connection with the coronation and the Paris exposition, opening May 24. Officials also hinted the ring may have been connected with an explosion aboard the Bordeaux-Marseille Express May 5.

Tennessee Outlaws 'Sit-Down Strikes'

Nashville, Tenn., May 12 (AP)—The Tennessee legislature passed a bill today to outlaw "sit-down strikes," and sent it to Governor Gordon Browning.

The measure provides that when a person quits his employment, whether voluntarily or by discharge, he "shall within a reasonable time thereafter withdraw from the premises of the employer. In the absence of other circumstances 12 hours from the date of such cessation of employment shall be deemed a reasonable time."

Violation is declared to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine up to $500 or imprisonment for any period up to 11 months and 29 days, or both.

INJURIES FATAL

Grand Haven (AP) — Injuries suffered May 7 when he was crushed between a tug and a gravel scow at Saugatuck caused the death Wednesday of Lloyd McCracken, 22.

Lovers' Pastor

Dr. W. A. McKeever (above), Oklahoma City psychologist and one-time college professor, said he was not discouraged by lack of interest shown by men after the opening session of his "Lovers' Church," attended by 150 women and six bashful men. Dr. McKeever said he hoped to combine religion and social contact.

SENATE DELAYS CAUSE SITDOWN

Failure to Act on Bills Brings Protest from Lower House

Lansing, May 12 (AP)—The house of representatives went on a sit-down strike of its own today, declining to act on any senate bills until the senate "gets down to work on bills we send over there."

Democratic "steering committee" members claimed responsibility for the decision, protesting especially on the failure of the senate to bring out of committee three bills that were approved in the house weeks ago. They are measures which would permit old age assistance payments to persons 65 years of age, in place of the present 70 year age limit; encourage electrification projects, and permit counties to own and operate electrical utility plants.

Rep. Philip J. Rahoi, Democrat, Iron Mountain, went farther than the steering committee, threatening that his conservation committee would kill senate legislation submitted to it unless the senate speed its deliberations. The house refused to consider pending senate bills today.

The senate adjourned after an hour's work, approving a bill which would make it a misdemeanor to sell raw milk or cream from herds that had not been tested and found free of disease.

WOMEN PICKET STATE CAPITAL

Clemency of Governor Sought for Three Jailed Strikers

Lansing, May 12 (AP)—Women strikers of the Trenton Garment company, of Jackson, picketed the capitol today. They sought executive clemency for three colleagues who are in jail.

About 100 of them, carrying signs "release our girls from jail" and "pass the labor bill," paraded on the board walk in front of the building. No attempt was made to interfere with persons entering or leaving. The picketers circled the bronze statue of Austin Blare, while a delegation of strikers conferred inside with Norman B. Hill, secretary to Governor Murphy.

Harold Schwartz, attorney for the Jackson local of the International Lady Garment Workers, said three strikers were in jail. The delegation wanted something done about getting them out. He also asked that steps be taken to force negotiations relative to hours and wages. Schwartz charged the company refused to negotiate.

Hill informed the delegation he would submit a report of their complaints to the governor Thursday. Edward G. Kemp, governor Murphy's legal advisor, told the strikers there is no authority for pardoning persons committed to jail for contempt of court.

STUDENTS STRIKE

Detroit, May 12. (AP)—The Wayne county sheriff's office received a report that 75 students at the Edison school, in Taylor township, went on strike today because two teachers had been asked to take salary cuts.

ABOUT 27,000 ARE INVOLVED AT 2 PLANTS

CONTRACTS SOUGHT FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

(By The Associated Press)

Pittsburgh, May 12 (AP)—Thousands of union steel workers picketed the giant plants of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation tonight in the first major steel strike since John L. Lewis began his drive to organize the nation's mill men into one big union.

The strike went into effect promptly at 11 p. m.—the initial move in the campaign of the steel workers organizing committee to obtain written collective bargaining contracts with the big independent steel producers of the country, employing approximately 202,000 men.

Night Shifts Quit

Cheers from the picket lines greeted union members on the early night shifts who walked from the mills in Pittsburgh and nearby Aliquippa, Pa., in answer to the strike order of Chairman Philip Murray of the steel workers committee.

Murray ordered the walk out after a two-hour conference with Chairman H. E. Lewis of the corporation failed to effect an agreement on the union's demand for a signed collective bargaining contract.

The corporation in a formal announcement, stated it had offered to sign a contract providing an identical contract could be granted to non-union workers among its 27,000 employes.

No Disorder

The company also announced it had offered to grant a sole collective bargaining contract to the group obtaining a majority vote at an employes election supervised by the national labor relations board.

It termed the walkout, "unfortunate."

Murray declined to comment on the company's statement. He said the mills would be shut down tight but announced a further conference would be held with the company tomorrow.

Flames from the blast furnaces shot high into the air, intermittently lighting up the faces of the crowds of men, women and children who packed the streets in front of mill gates more than an hour before the official strike call went into effect.

Flags Bar Entrance

Without disorder, the union men prevented non-union workers from entering the mill gates.

They held two American flags across the main entrance at the Eliquippa works.

The throng was increased by the night shift members who fell into line, clasped arms with one another, and paraded in front of the gates.

A light rain before midnight sent many of the women and children—families of strikers—to their homes, but the men remained in the lines.

Union workers had voted Sun-

The program will include selections which the choir and glee clubs will sing at the festival, both in the massed groups and as separate organizations.

This program marks the first appearance of the choir in the new blue and gold robes which have just been purchased. Because there are more members of the choir than there are robes, sixty will be selected from the group to take part in the program.

Escanaba Man's Father Veteran Turner Member

Green Bay, Wis.—The two oldest members of the Green Bay Turner society are observing their birthday anniversaries today at their homes. Karl Manthey, 1132 Pine street, and H. A. (Grandpa) Straubel, Avon Park, Fla., a former Green Bay resident, are 86 and 96, respectively. Each is in fair health and attributes it to the athletic classes they attended as young men. They are also included among the oldest members of Green Bay Odd Fellows lodge No. 19.

Mr. Straubel, the father of Charles A. Straubel, 826 S. Madison street, celebrated his birthday by holding open house this afternoon and among his guests were Judge and Mrs. D. V. Rouse, Orlando, Fla., the latter a granddaughter. He is the only living charter member of the Turner society founded here in 1852.

Mr. Manthey has been a resident of Green Bay since 1879 when he came here from Chicago where he had lived for 10 years, coming to this country from Germany in 1869. He is the father of four sons, Herman and Charles, both of Green Bay; Otto, Escanaba, Mich.; and Erwin, Philippine Islands. He also has nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Bowling Has Changed Since It Originated

New York City's sport thunderstorm is over. Recently completed is the mammoth bowling bout of the American Bowling Congress, which for 56 consecutive days rumbled along to somewhat of a record. With about 20,000 entrants and almost 1,000 hours' duration, this national contest set a new high score for size.

Bowling may now be ranked as a major sport from the point of view of numbers participating. It is estimated that nine million Americans take part in the sport.

Game of Sir Francis Drake

" 'Bowling 'em over' is not the same sport which absorbed Sir Francis Drake's mind and muscle at Plymouth while the Spanish Armada sailed into the English Channel," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. "He and his officers were whiling away that fateful hour with bowls, still a popular British pastime. It is an outdoor activity, and consists of hopefully rolling a lopsided wooden ball across the greensward in the direction of a white target bowl. Since the 'bowl' is designed oblate for bias rolling, for ' obliquely waddling to the mark in view,' control of its swerving course requires skill.

"In the United States this is called lawn bowls. Bowling is only its first cousin, for it stems not from England but from the continent. Its direct ancestor is the German version of ninepins, Kegelspiel, from which bowlers take their nickname of keglers. Bowling is now an indoor game of bombarding bottle-shaped maple 'pins' with a fat bakelite ball. The miniature field of battle is a sixty-foot glass-smooth 'alley' of maple or pine, skell lacked and polished seven times for dazzling slickness.

"All New York City's rank growth of skyscrapers has not been able to crowd out bowling's traditional American birthplace—Bowling Green Park. This tiny green oval, from which Broadway plunges into its noisy and dazzling career, three centuries ago served New Netherlanders as a village green just outside the red cedar palisade of Fort Amsterdam. It was their outdoor market, and the supposed site of New York's foremost swindle—Peter Minuit's purchase, for $24 worth of dry goods, of all Manhattan Island from Indians who may not have had a title to it.

"Presumably, the space had already proved satisfactory for bowling when it was inclosed, in 1732, for the yearly rent of one peppercorn—any trifling sum—as a private green. The iron fence, brought from England, could not protect this early sports center from violence. Here in 1765 riotous citizens protested against the Stamp Act. On July 9, 1776, when the Declaration of Independance had just been read to the Continental Army, a mob tore down the fine new leaden statue of George III on horseback and reduced it to good republican bullets.

Once Against the Law

"Bowls and bowling are pastimes of such long standing that they have worn a track across the map. Bowling Green is the name of eight towns and localities in the United States, a bay and a cape in Australia, and two villages in England. American variants are Bowlington, Kentucky, and Bowler's Wharf, Virginia. The Bowling Greens arre towns of Floida, Indiana, Missouri, South Carolina, Virginia, Ohio, and Kentuckey, and a mountain in New Jersey. Wales has a Bowling Bank.

"Scotland has its Bowling, a town twelve miles down the Clyde River from Glasgow; because so many steamers put into Bowling Harbor for winter repairs, it is nicknamed 'Clyde Infirmary.'

"Bowling Alley is the name of two English hamlets. Others are Bowling Junction and Bowler's Green. The Surrey mansion of William Pitt, made Earl of Chatham for navigating the British Ship of State through Revolutionary waters, was Bowling Green House.

"One reason for the farflung use of this sport's name is that the game was given the stimulus of prohibition. A law in force until 1845 permitted only the landed gentry to obtain a license for bowls, and a bowling green became a symbol of distinction and special privilege, Soon after its rise to popularity in the 13th century, the game was prohibited for fear it might detract from the following of archery, then so important as a means of national defense. Later, when it became the pastime of the wealthy, it aroused criticism because of betting. A non-ecclesiastrical tradition, however, is that pious John Knox once encountered pious John Calvin at a game of bowls on Sunday. Last month President Roosevelt signed a bill legalizing Sunday bowling in the District of Columbia.

"Even more than bowling has affected geography, geography's influence is seen on variations of the game. Standard bowling in northern and western United States is played with ten pins (adopted when the game of ninepins was once declared illegal) and a 16-pound ball 27 inches around, with two holes for finger grips. Duckpins, with larger followings farther south, uses smaller pins and balls, finger holes omitted from the latter. The number of pins differs for the varieties known as 'cocked hat' (3), 'cocked hat and feather' (4), and 'quintet' (5). The lawn bowls game is popular in resort sections wherever the climate gives an encouraging answer to 'weather permitting.' "

JOHNSON WILL ATTEND MEET

Mayor Will Go to Iron Mountain for City Chiefs' Confab

Mayor Carl B. Johnson indicated yesterday that, in all probability, he would attend the organization meeting of an upper peninsula association of mayors and village presidents. The meeting, called by Mayor Carl G. Miller of Iron Mountain, will be held in Iron Mountain this month. Although the date has not been set it probably will be held May 19.

Invitations are being issued to the mayor of every city and the president of every village board in the upper peninsula, about 45 in all, Miller said. It will be an all-day session, probably closing with a dinner in the evening, when officers will be selected.

The purpose of the organization, Miller stated, is to effect a closely-knit, active group of city and village officials who will work together for the general welfare and development of the upper peninsula. There will be a general discussion, touching on recommended legislation, changes in civic regulations, law enforcement and allied subjects.

Can Obtain Recognition

"We believe that an organization of this kind can do much towards obtaining recognition from our state government," Miller said. "We will be in a position to make strong representation on recommended changes, with the endorsement and cooperation of every community in the peninsula.

"Iron Mountain has its own specific problems, some of which we believe can be remedied if we have an organization to support our requests. Other communities are similarly situated, and these conditions will be given a thorough consideration at our meetings.

"Industry has its organizations, and so has business and the professions. There is no reason why the municipalities should not be similarly grouped in a working unit, for their common good. That, at least, is our program."

Officers of the Michigan Municipal league are drawing up a tentative policy for the new group and will be at the meeting to submit it. An effort is also being made to obtain Louis M. Nims, state WPA administrator, as the principal speaker.

Forty girls in clothing clubs led by Miss Clara Victorson, Miss Mabel Victorson, Miss Margaret Walker, Mrs. A. S. James and Miss Mary Lackey, all of Newberry, and Miss Doris Olson of McMillan completed their work in the clothing projects.

Judging of exhibits was done by Miss Marcella Meyer of Marquette and Mr. Nevels Pearson of East Lansing, assistant state club leaders.

Upon completion of the judging, Wm. Cargo, district agricultural agent, presided at the following program which had been prepared by the local 4-H club leaders:

Group singing, The Song of the Open Country.

Play, Winnie 'n Pa, by 4-H group.

Talk, Hobbies, Mrs. Mary Chamberlain, county school commissioner.

After another group song the clothing club girls displayed their own creations in a well planned dress revue.

Local leaders were presented with pins symbolical of the years of leadership in club work. C. E. Blakeslee was presented with a fountain pen as a mark of appreciation for his efforts with 4-H club work in Luce county.

Miss Meyer announced the following local honor members in clothing club work: Betty Mattson, Gladys Smith, Anna Lackey, Llona Parks, Alice Lackey, Joyce Kalnbach, Florence Brow, and Lenore James. After the program supper was served to 105 club members and guests.

Club Entertains At Mothers' Day Banquet Tuesday

Newberry, Mich., May 12. — The Newberry Business and Professional Woman's club entertained at the annual Mother's Day banquet on Tuesday night in the dining room of the community building. Seated at tables decorated with bright favors and cut flowers about 90 members and their guests listened to an interesting program at which Ruth Stephens presided. After the brief opening by President Lois Auten the address of welcome was given by Ruth Fretz. Miss Fretz mentioned that the club gave this annual event, one of the most interesting and valued in the year's program to honor the name of "Mother" and talked briefly on "Mothers and Other Mothers." Mrs. Alvin Doten responded, thanking the club for the honors and asking that mothers take time from the close attention to the mechanics of home and family to make friends with daughters and to spend more time in comradeship with them. Mrs. Weber sang two songs. A one act comedy "The Wrong Baby" was given by a cast of high school girls, trained and directed by Ruth Stephens. The story was of a day nursery in which several babys representing various nationalities and two colors, were given to the wrong mothers. The cast:

Mrs. Brixson, owner of the nursery, Helen Pardee.

Marietta Brexon, her niece, Marian Doten.

Mrs. Mulligan, Irish mother, Catherine Seibert.

Mrs. Wafer, colored mother, Frances Monk.

Mrs. Tripoli, Italian mother, Nadfna Shimmens.

Rose Tripoli, her daughter, Jane Townsend.

Maggie Reilly, Irish maiden, Anna Marie Quinlan.

MISS YOUNG REELECTED

Florence Young, for the past year chairman of the Luce County Health Organization, was reelected as chairman at the regular meeting of the group on Tuesday afternoon in the community building. All other officers were also reelected. They are: Mrs. McLeod, vice chairman; Mrs. Shaw, secretary, and Mrs. Victor Berglund, treasurer. Routine business of the organization was hnadled. Many of the members signified their intention of attending the state health meeting to be held in Sault Ste. Marie on May 22 and lists were prepared to insure transportation. Miss Eva Buerman will preside at one of the meetings of this large gathering. It was also decided to pay for X-rays for a case brought to the attention of the organization by Mrs. Thompson of McMillan if investigation found that it be necessary.

CLUB MEMBERS TO MEET TODAY

Achievement Day of 4-H Clubs in Delta County Observed Here

Members of Delta county's 36 4-H clubs will attend the annual 4-H achievement day program to be held at the senior high school auditorium this afternoon. About 350 boys and girls from club units in 18 towns and villages within the county are expected, and parents and the general public are invited to be present.

The achievement day program will open at 10 o'clock this morning, with playground activities under the direction of Orren King of Wells and John Norton of Kipling. A wood identification contest is to be held at 11 o'clock and a meeting of local leaders is scheduled for the same time. Lunch, with everyone furnishing his own, will be held at noon at the senior high school.

Hold Style Show

A style show, in which club members will display clothing they have made during the winter, will be held at 12:45 o'clock, to be followed by announcement of the winners in clothing, handicraft, wood identification and health contests. A free motion picture, "The Devil Is a Sissy" will be held at 2:30 o'clock, and ends the day's program.

Exhibits of clothing, handicraft and household furnishings will be open in the senior high school gym until noon, when they will be taken down to be used in the style show in the auditorium. Judges of the club entries will be M. H. Avery, Miss L. B. Green and Miss Alice Bates of the Michigan State college club department. Delta county 4-H club work is directed by E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Clothing Exhibited

Girls of the 4-H clubs are exhibiting clothing they have made as a part of the club program during the past winter. Those in first and second year work have sewed dresses of simple, sports type, cotton, for summer wear. Third year girls have knitted wool suits, and silk party dresses. Drop shoulder sleeves are made by the younger groups, while those who have progressed further have made dresses with set-in sleeves. The third year girls also learn to test dress materials and study styles. Advanced club members may make home furnishings, in what is called the "girl's room" project. Dressing tables and chairs are constructed of orange crates, and trimmed with ruffles.

Woodworking is the work of the boy club members during the winter period. Exhibits of handicraft at the high school range from simple wooden kitchenware, such as breadboards and dustpans, to large pieces of furniture such as desks, tables, and book cases.

The 4-H club members range in age from 12 to 18 years, and new members of any age within the limits may participate. There are many advanced members in the Delta county unit of the organization. Newcomers are not required to start at the bottom, but may take a place in the 4-H club program where their knowledge and training enables them to fit in and fulfill the requirements.

35 APPLY FOR AID ON FARMS

Seed Loans Are Benefit to Farmers; Will Close Soon

Thirty five farmers of Delta county already have filed applications for feed and seed loans at the office of E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, it was learned yesterday.

This year's mark already has surpassed that of the whole season last year, when 30 seed loans were granted. Loans were opened March 1 and are expected to be closed within a few weeks, final date being dependent upon word from the Federal Seed Loan office in St. Paul.

Loans may be secured to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, fuel and oil and to finance dusting and spraying and for summer fallowing. The highest possible loan is $200 and ordinarily must be paid back by September 1 of the same year as the loan was received. However, in special conditions, extension is granted farmers providing interest is kept up to date. Farmers in arrears for more than one year's loan are not eligible for further loans.

Loans already received this year by Wenner's office are from almost every point in the county, ranging as widely as Fairbanks to Perronville. Although any amounts up to $200 may be borrowed, the average loan here this year amounts to between $80 and $90.

Yacht Club Sets Dedication Date For Yacht Basin

Escanaba's new yacht harbor will be dedicated on Wednesday, July 28, members of the Escanaba Yacht club determined at a regular meeting held last night. The date of the club's Venetian night celebration, formerly held on July 23, was shifted to July 28 so that the fleet's annual fireworks display might add color to the ceremonies of dedication day.

The local club agreed to join the Menominee and Marinette Yacht club in their annual 100 mile cruise on Green Bay waters, which is to be held beginning on July 30.

A committee was appointed to work in cooperation with the city commission in drawing up rules and regulations governing such matters as anchorage and speed of motor boats within the harbor. Applications for anchorage in the yacht basin have already been received from 19 local owners of sailing craft and motor boats.

Faster Rail Service

AS WAS promised by officials of the company at the mid-winter meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, the Milwaukee Road will launch a fast passenger service between Chicago and Iron Mountain on May 28. The de luxe streamlined equipment, with air conditioning and other modern features for traveling comfort, such as is used on the famous Hiawatha train between Chicago and Minneapolis, will be placed on the new run.

The high speed service will bring Iron Mountain within a little over six hours by rail from Chicago and only 29 hours from New York. That this will be appreciated by the traveling public and also by the business interests of Iron Mountain goes without saying. Very likely, the Milwaukee Road will be receiving delegations from the Copper Country, who will want the excellent train service extended to that region, for the tourist season at least.

Whether the Soo Line railway and the E. & L. S. will be changing their schedules to make connections with the Milwaukee Road's new train and speed up the service into Gladstone and Escanaba has not been indicated as yet. No doubt, this will have to wait until the Milwaukee Road announces its timecard.

In recent years, this region has been reading the depressing news of railroads' pulling up their tracks as certain timber areas were logged out. The decision of the Milwaukee Road to furnish its high speed passenger service to the Upper Peninsula gives new hope. It indicates that this is not yet a forgotten country.

Dictatorship Coming?

EVER since Sinclair Lewis wrote his book, "It Can't Happen Here," there has been much discussion of the question whether America is threatened by dictatorship. Since the talk started with a book of fiction in the first place it has not been taken so very seriously.

But now comes a statement from Ambassador William E. Dodds, who warns against the danger of a Fascist dictatorship in the United States. Coming from a personage like Ambassador Dodds this warning sort of makes us sit up and take notice for he has been stationed for sometime in Berlin, where he has an opportunity to observe from a ringside seat how a dictator operates. He also is able to get a long-range view of problem since he is a noted historian, who has been many years studying world economic, social and political trends.

We have been inclined to take our American democracy pretty much for granted. We have accepted it as a form of government that will always exist, paying little attention to the fact that other nations of the world have had democracies that were eventually crushed by dictators.

What form a dictatorship could possibly take in America is not clear at this time. When the trends toward dictatorship appear, however, we should be in a position to identify them and therefore be able to take the steps necessary to preserve our democracy. Our schools are the first line of defense against attacks on democracy, but even education will not do any good if the schools are not kept free from the propaganda of those who would want to foist authoritarian government upon our liberty-loving American people.

Planning for Future

THE Escanaba board of education is showing good foresight in deciding to purchase a portion of a block north of the Webster school for use as a playground area. Eventually, this space probably would not be available and the school children of that district would be denied the recreational benefits afforded there.

It is unfortunate that when the pioneer city planners surveyed the Escanaba site and made provision for our fine, wide streets that more regard was not paid to the need for park and playground areas distributed over various sections of the community. However, there are still opportunities for correcting the mistakes of the past, although it may prove more costly now.

The city also has decided to establish a neighborhood playground on its property on South Eighteenth street. The administration clearly recognizes the necessity for a well-rounded out recreational system, and is also giving serious consideration to the next vital step—the employment of a trained recreational supervisor. If adequate provisions can be made for this additional expense in the next budget, Escanaba will make some real progress in providing well-directed play for its citizens—young and old.

A Worthwhile Institution

SINCE the presentation of "The Servant in the House," the first of the series of plays planned by Arthur Courtney White, there has been much favorable comment heard concerning the possibilities for a Civic Theater movement in this community.

Mr. White, who studied dramatics under Frohman and spent a quarter of a century on the legitimate stage, is offering the results of his long experience to Escanaba residents, who enjoy acting and have an inclination for this art.

The Civic Theater's object is to stimulate interest in the drama, a thing that is especially desirable, now that the "talkies" are in the ascendancy, and the American people are on the verge of forgetting what a play given by a flesh and blood cast looks and sounds like. An opportunity for developing the talent of those who have a penchant for acting, play-writing, play-reading or stage management and directing is also offered by this splendid organization.

The Civic Theater movement presents an opportunity that would be welcomed by many other communities.

Share Our Helium

DETERMINATION of the exact cause of the disaster to the dirigible Hindenburg must await full investigation. At the moment, about all that can be said confidently is that if the big ship's gas cells had been filled with non-expjlosive helium, instead of hydrogen, the catastrophe would not have occurred.

The Germans use hydrogen in their airships because they have no helium. The United States has a practical monopoly on that gas.

But the United States has no big dirigibles, and evidently is not in the mood to build any. That helium monopoly would not, therefore, seem to be of much use to us right now. Since the Germans do build and operate big dirigibles, wouldn't it be sensible for us to make our helium supply available to them? The Hindenburg would in all probability be afloat today if we had done so.

Seems Unnecessary

THE appropriation of $5,000 to finance the preparation of a biography of the late Woodbridge N. Ferris, former governor and former United States senator, is asked in a bill that has been introduced into the legislature.

Mr. Ferris was one of the old-time Democrats, and one of the finest men who ever participated in public affairs in Michigan. He contributed much to education in this state as head of Ferris Institute in Big Rapids, where many young men and young woman obtained a good start in their business and professional careers. His publis service as governor and senator also won high commendation.

It would seem that it would be unnecessary for the legislature to spend $5,000 for a biography, however. Whenever any individual has made a great enough name for himself, and Woodbridge N. Ferris certainly did, some writer will pen the story of his life and it will be sold to the public on its merits. After all, biographies that are written on this basis are likely to be more valuable as historical documents.

ONTONAGON VOTES AGAIN
(Ironwood Globe)

The Ontonagon county board has decided to make another effort to get electors of the county to approve an additional tax of two mills for snow removal purposes. In view of the close vote when the proposal previously went before the electors, there is a possibility that the vote this time may be favorable in spite of the fact that a two-thirds majority is necessary under the 15-mill limitation act.

Another favorable factor, in the opinion of some of the supervisors, is the fact that the wording of the ballot in the previous election was confusing. The impression was gained that the county board sought two mills in addition to the two mills requested in 1936. This time, it is proposed, the wording of the ballot shall make it clear that the county seeks two mills additional taxes for snow removal during the next two winters.

Proponents of the two-mill tax say that while the state highway department has taken over maintenance of trunk lines in Ontonagon county, state funds are not available for plowing township roads. That point should be further clarified, for electors of the county are prone to believe the state provides the funds for maintenance of township roads as well as trunk lines. Inasmuch as the special election will take place May 29, proponents have only three weeks in which to get all the facts to the voting public of the county. They had better work fast.

NOT WAGE ISSUE
(Grand Rapids, Mich., Press)

CHASE OSBORN, usually an acute observer of the national scene, was not his realistic self the other day when he advocated a course of action to stop the powerful thrust of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. The former governor declared that the rise of Lewisism could be thwarted if employers would pay their workers more than even Lewis asks.

The solution Mr. Osborn suggests is all too simple. The facts are that in most of the automobile strikes, for instance, the question of wages scarcely entered at all. Even reduction of hours of work was not demanded vigorously. The sole issue, aside from minor shop questions, was union recognition.

And will payment of bigger wages forestall a union drive? It has not proven thus. On the contrary, leaders are wont to inform workers that this is an evidence of their power, that a wage increase coming in the beginning of a union national campaign is tantamount to a recognition of their group. Homer Martin took that tack in the recent automobile labor conflict.

So Mr. Osborn has failed to catch the real significance of the union movement now being carried on throughout the land. It is a drive for labor power concentrated in a single, and sometimes a minority, group. It is pertinent to note that the first blow the union struck was at the automobile industry, where wages are higher than union wages in many of the C. I. O. trades. The Lewis group did not make its first show of power to bring high wages into occupations where wages are low and working conditions and pay have had little to do with the C. I. O.'s effort.

REFUGEES FROM A CARNIVAL
(New Orleans Item)

WHEN Aldous Huxley makes port, the New York reporters ask if he will get back home for the coronation. "No, no, no, no!" he emphasizes. Joan Haslip, another English literateur, comes over with the explanation that she dreads the innumerable street stands and thousands of Australians "that are going to make London dreadful." We already had Lord Marley's advice to stay away and visit England after the glad event.

The ships are full of other loyal Britons westward bound. Other ships are also full of eager Americans eastward bound, to spend their money on the royal show. Many of us need no explanation of this cross-flood of traffic. How many Orleanians do you know yourself who hie to quieter retreats before Fat Tuesday to escape the joys of the culminating carnival?

World Affairs Reviewed

BY REV. D. R. DAVIES

(Mr. Davies was a member of the British Church delegation which recently visited Bilbao. He is a well-known Congregational minister, and was until some years ago at Maesteg, Glamorgan.)

London—Headed by the Dean of Canterbury, the Rev. Hewlett Johnson, the Church delegation which responded to the invitation of the Basque Government to visit Bilbao, spent seven days in the province.

We visited hospitals, prisons, churches, convents, and barracks. We traveled over the whole area still in government hands. We also visited the front line, and were witnesses of aerial bombardments and of naval atcion against merchant shipping.

From our visit and investigation, the most urgent and immediate conclusion that emerges is this:

That the extent of the food shortage in Bilbao and throughout the Basque country cannot be exaggerated. The lack of bread, cereals, meat, sugar, fats, is so great that the whole population of a great city is in danger of being starved into submission.

—PICTURES CONDITIONS—

Let me try and paint some impressions of our visit.

First, the absence of horses and dogs. There were a few donkeys and mules—invaluable forms of transport—but we never saw a horse.

Later, we were told that all livestock had been killed for food; even the animal pet of the household had been sacrificed.

"Our children must not starve," was the laconic explanation.

During the whole of our stay in Bilbao we never saw a loaf of bread; shops and restaurants are bare. I spent one evening going the round of Bilbao's cafes and bars; all I was able to get was camomile tea and a little anchovy.

Outside the food shops, open only at stated hours during the day, stretch long queues of stoic men and women. At the very best, only two meals a day are eaten.

I was taken round the back streets of Bilbao and saw sights which made me feel ashamed. People are existing on rice, lettuce, and small and coarse fish. All food is rationed. It is so scarce that even the troops cannot be fed.

During the heavy first offensive on the Durango front which, according to Mr. Steer, the "Times" correspondent, was comparable in intensity to some of the greatest battles of the world war, many Basque soldiers fought for seven days without any provisions being brought into the line. They had to exist on what could be foraged from the immediate countryside.

There is no exaggeration here. When it is said that the brave people of the Basque are slowly starving in fighting for liberty, it is not a symbolic, picturesque statement, but a tragic, literal truth.

And what of the Government?

The Church Delegation went to Spain to investigate the question of the Basque attitude toward religion in general and the Church in particular.

Was the Government persecuting the Church? Was it pursuing an anti-God policy? Was it killing or even imprisoning priests, monks, and nuns?

—GIVE CONCLUSIONS—

We were unanimous in our conclusions.

The Basques are probably the most religious people in Europe. Wherever we went we saw no signs of religious repression or persecution. The only churches destroyed or damaged were those which Franco's bombs had blown to bits — in Durango and Eibar.

We actually saw Franco's Italian and German aeroplanes dropping their bombs over Durango. These churches were open all day. Priests performed their offices; nuns looked after the refugees, nursed the sick and wounded, taught in the schools.

There is no hostility between the Church and the Government. Catholicism is part of the daily life of the people.

And the Government of this province, most of the members of which are devout Catholics, give the lie to the statement that this is an anti-Church war. The Basques will fight to the bitter end against Fascism. They are unshaken in their determination to defeat Franco and his Italian and German supporters.

In this they have the support of the overwhelming majority of Spaniards.—The World-Wide News Service.

New York Column

BY JACK STINNETT

NEW YORK—The best musicians, says Phil Spitalny, the orchestra leader, come from the small towns.

Although Spitalny has one of the few and certainly one of the best all-girl orchestras in the country, he doesn't confine that conclusion to women musicians.

JACK STINNETT

It was, however, in assembling the 34 girls in his band that Spitalny made the discovery. Several years ago, when he hit on the idea of building an all-girl unit, he started holding auditions in New York. He found only one competent woman musician available for such work . . . Evelyn Kay, who now is the orchestra's concert mistress and violin soloist. He moved on to Boston, tried Chicago, then Philadelphia.

* * *

BEFORE he located 30 girls, Spitalny had covered 17 states, working as far west as Denver, and listening to more than 1,200 auditions.

"Musical students in smaller cities have less to distract them, less to keep them busy. Consequently they practice more," Spitalny says.

Alma Adams, the 17-year-old tuba player and youngest member of the band, Spitalny found in Dumont, N. J. Frances Blaisdell, who plays the flute, came from Red Bank, in the same state. Lola Lutzy, one of the pianists, is from Canton, O. Not far away, in Columbus, he discovered Maxine Marlowe, vocalist. The vocal trio with the band is from Louisville, Ky. Dez Thompson, the drummer, is from Fort Worth, Texas . . . and so it goes until almost all of the 17 states are represented.

* * *

SPITALNY is himself a Russian, but he calls Cleveland his home town and it was there that he waved his first baton for an orchestra.

Girl musicians, he says, are much easier to handle than men. They take more pride in the work, are more enthusiastic in rehearsals, and more reliable in concert playing.

When Spitalny started to assemble his orchestra, he made each girl sign a contract that she would not marry for six months. In the two years since the first rehearsal session, not one of the girls has married and if there are any now who have intentions, they have kept it a pretty close secret.

That, says the conductor, is because all of the girls are independent.

"When a young woman is making from $70 to several hundred dollars a week, as the girls in the orchestra are, marriage isn't such an attractive state," he explains.

If a person listens occasionally to the type of music his personality requires, it will help him to get a new grip on life.

News Behind The News

BY PAUL MALLON

Washington — Labor behemoth John Lewis hates anything Green. His C. I. O. hates anything connected with A. F. of L. crafts. But when Mr. Lewis sent around specifications calling for bids on remodeling the University Club Palace here into a United Mine Workers' headquarters palace, the final stipulation he made was substantially this:

In any work to be done, only Mr. Green's A. F. of L. craft union labor shall be employed.

The humor of Mr. Lewis providing jobs for the workers of Mr. Green is one thing. The hint that this battle of the behemoths has lately turned into something more of a family affair is another.

For instance, there is the fact (few people know it) that Mr. Green has never been expelled from the Lewis United Mine Workers' union. Furthermore, the Lewis C. I. O. unions have not been expelled from the A. F. of L. They merely have suspended each other.

That seems to sum up their real relationship behind their embattled headlines. They are in a state of suspension, possibly permanent suspension, but by no means as bitter suspension as they were some weeks ago.

—SIDETRACKING—

This will probably be denied ardently. It may be said Mr. Lewis had no love for Mr. Green, but only self-preservation in mind when he wrote his palace specifications. All building trades unions are in the A. F. of L. and Mr. Lewis would rather get labor from the enemy than from non-union classes. The fact that he specified it may be explained by the assertion that contractors were timid about taking the job for fear of Lewis-Green labor troubles on it.

After all this has been explained, however, there will still remain the fact that Mr. Lewis has not kicked out Mr. Green and vice versa.

It seems the United Mine Workers' executive committee discovered it did not have the power to expel Mr. Green because he appealed to a local union for a hearing of the charges. His local is at Coshocton, Ohio, and when the matter went there, no one around here heard of it thereafter. Incidentally, there seems to be a deep inside disposition to leave the matter in Coshocton.

Similarly, the A. F. of L. executive committee does not seem to be mourning because it cannot expel Mr. Lewis but must leave him in suspension until the next A. F. of L. convention. There is a fairly good tip around that the suspension will not develop into an expulsion even at the next convention.

Bystanders, statesmen and others seem to be agreed this is the best way. A separation is usually better than an outright divorce. It leaves the possibility that something will happen to prevent the divorce.

—ALIMONY—

Rumors are running around the capital that the reason the A. F. of L. will not suspend the Lewis unions is that it cannot afford to lose the revenue from them. The facts are these: The C. I. O. diversion cost the A. F. of L. 983,000 members, but on April 30 it had 2,884,577 members left. Most of these members pay one cent a month. The loss of the Lewis unions, therefore, would seem to represent a financial loss to the A. F. of L. of about $9,830 per month. But the revenue received from remaining members is certainly sufficient to keep it going.

Furthermore, this loss already has been sustained. The suspended C. I. O. unions are not paying dues now.

C. I. O. finances are not so readily ascertainable. The C. I. O. does not have a general levy upon members of its various unions. The unions appropriate sums from their treasuries for its operation from time to time. In these new steel and auto unions which have been organized by C. I. O., a levy system is supposed to have been put into effect, but it has not been operating long enough to become productive.

—PROMOTION—

The coronation caused hardly a ripple of official interest here. It has been accepted somewhat as the British counterpart of the world exposition in Paris or the World's fair in New York in 1939.

Few officials know the new king, but those who do like him. They call him "dependable, like his father" in contradistinction to Windsor, whom these same people regarded as something of a harum-scarum. They never knew what he was going to do next.

The feeling prevails that King George will slowly become more and more popular among his own people, although they doubt that his popularity in the world at large will soon approximate that of his father or the former Prince of Wales.

With grade school graduations again at hand, it would be interesting to know which topped the list, diplomas or marriage licenses.

Lyrics of Life

By Douglas Malloch

IN A DAY

A thousand years is but a day
In making worlds, and yet the way
We spend a day more than appears.
If wrong shall hurry, right delay,
A day may be a thousand years.

One day a man was sacrificed
Upon a cross, while soldiers diced,
Yes, for a day the world was wrong
And lost a thousand years of Christ,
A day can be so very long.

A thousand years a people may
Be building for a better day,
While slowly, steadily it nears—
Then in a moment throw away
The progress of a thousand years.

Ten Postoffices Given Promotion

By PAUL MAY

Washington, D. C.—Ten Escanaba area postoffices, now rated fourth-class, will be promoted on July 1, the postoffice department announced today.

The offices include Alpha, Dollar Bay, and Palmer.

With promotion of the offices to third class rating, the postmaster at each office will get a pay raise. Minimum pay for a third class postmaster is $1100.

The promotions were ordered on the basis of postal receipts for the calendar year 1936. The promoted postoffices had receipts for the year in excess of $1655, giving an "adjusted" receipts total in excess of $1500. The adjusted figure is 90 per cent of gross receipts, all a postoffice is permitted to county toward its classification, under postal regulations.

The new rating of the offices will stand until July 1, 1938, when they may be re-rated on the basis of either increased or decreased receipts.

JAMISON TO BE HERE MONDAY

15 County Treasurers of Peninsula Will Hear Tax Bill Talk

James K. Jamison, deputy auditor general accompanied by a legal advisor of the auditor general's department, will conduct a meeting of all upper peninsula county treasurers at the local courthouse Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purposes of explaining provisions of the new tax delinquency payment bill.

Because of the many intricacies contained in wording of the bill, the auditor general's department feels that a general discussion of it should be had with all county treasurers. A similar meeting will be held in the lower peninsula.

Behind Scenes

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

$6,000,000,000 in 1929. This is a huge pledge of future wages. There has been a lag in retail buying and a piling up of stocks until inventories in the hands of retailers and finished goods producers also are higher than in 1929.

"Foreign economists think we're crazy to permit such a big volume of installment buying," says a celebrated government economist.

Higher retail prices are anticipated by fall and the viewers-with-alarm assert that the country is getting to the point where there will be a deficit in purchasing power. Then, they say, there will be more unemployment piled on top of the present large unemployment—in the face of a $35,000,000,000 national debt.

"The only answer is to get prices down and wages up," says this group. "Now is the time to tax and balance the budget at a high level of spending."

This advice may be bad. It comes, however, from persons from whom F. D. R. has been accepting advice for several months.

Can't Let Franco Lose

Distillation of recent confidential advices re Spain, as received and interpreted by the War and State departments:

Mussolini and Hitler have agreed that they shouldn't let General Franco lose, and eventually they will see to it that he doesn't. Meanwhile, preferring not to repudiate the non-intervention agreement openly, they have urged Franco to get together all the troops he can now round up in Spain and try to take Madrid without heavy foreign reinforcements.

Hence the drive on Bilbao with the hope that sufficient troops and equipment can be withdrawn from the Basque front to make possible a successful assault on Madrid.

The tendency among diplomats and army men here now is to believe that within a year the Fascists will control all of Spain with the possible exception of Catalonia. Such predictions are based solely on the belief that Mussolini, worried about Italian prestige and probably with the more or less reluctant aid of Hitler, will insist on sending enough troops and materials into Spain to enable Franco to do the job.

A stiffening of the British and French attitudes toward the rebels has been noted. But our diplomats have been given to understand that England plans to wait and if she feels adequately prepared, to "take up the Mediterranean situation all at once." By force if necessary—and it is believed force will be necessary. Much more than the immediate situation as to Spain is involved. Italian or German influences have been at work in North Africa, Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Iraq, Arabia, and Trans-Jordan.

Predictions as to what will happen in Spain should not be taken too seriously, even when based on this government's best inside dope. Almost anything may happen, and not all the officials who have read regularly the confidential advices of our diplomatic and military agents in Europe are impressed by their profundity.

Pioneering in Manchuria

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. — In the mystery-wrapped region of Manchuria there is taking place a pioneering development which, in some respects, resembles the taking up of the lands of the American West. For some years there has been a steady movement of Orientals eager to obtain land of their own, just as were the American easterners who trekked in covered wagons over the Great Plains of the North American Continent. A fascinating survey of what has been and is being done has reached Washington from W. Ladejinsky, an agricultural economist attached to the foreign service of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Centuries ago Manchuria was regarded as the granary of Asia, according to old writers, but a change seems to have set in and the growing of field crops seems to have declined. This doubtless was due to the disordered state of the country. Roving brigands and wars between petty lords drove peace from the region. The people either joined the warriors or found their way back to central and south China. Production of grains fell. Manchuria became more of a cattle country, as the lands were good for pasture and because cattle could be moved out of harm's way. Of course cattle could be seized by invaders and driven away too but, for a long period, cattle seemed to be preferable to field crops.

Up until the close of the Nineteenth Century development was retarded by hostility on the part of the Manchurians to unrestricted Chinese immigration. With the turn of the century the policy was altered and there has been a steady influx of Chinese and Japanese. The old Manchu war lords have lost much of their terror, and agricultural expansion has been rapid. The construction of a network of railways, chiefly by the Japanese, has had the same influence upon the opening up of the country that the building of the Union Pacific and other western lines had in the United States.

One is inclined to think of that Manchurian country, north of the Great Wall of China, as a part of the wastes of the north. As a matter of fact much of the territory is no farther north than the French Riviera. The climate, however, is colder than that of the south of France because of its inland position and the fact that, off the coast, the Pacific waters are cold.

It is curious to realize that Vladivostok, ice bound a part of the year, is no farther north than the mild temperatured city of Constantinople. The weather is indeed cold over most of the area and the winters severe and long. Nevertheless, it has been demonstrated that such crops as cotton and tobacco can be grown in the region. Most of the land has great fertility, although the richness begins to shade off in the northern and western sections. Climatically Manchuria is classified as temperate.

Crop Failure Unknown

Since the relaxation of immigration restrictions, the cultivated area has doubled and there now are 34,000,000 acres under the plough. But there yet remain 42,000,000 acres of arable land to be taken up. Some 84 per cent of the entire population is engaged in farming, and farm products account for 60 per cent of the export trade. Ninety per cent of world import requirements of soybeans come from this territory, the country ranking second only to China in production of this staple. While rainfall is slight compared with many other sections of the world—only a mean of 20 inches—it is so distributed that it is favorable for the growing crops and, a dry period coming in the autumn, favorable for harvesting. The soil is naturally fertile and, while there have been good years and bad, conditions have been so equable that the territory has never known an outright crop failure.

Conditions in China have been such as to encourage a migration northward. In China, crop failure and utter famine have been familiar phenomena. Overpopulation of the agrarian regions, increasing taxation, civil wars, and all the social and economic effects that China has so long been heir to have combined to send the Chinese into the newer fields. As with nearly all population movements there are comings and goings. Some immigrants are disappointed and return, but every year sees a net gain for Manchuria. In each of three years of the last decade—1927, 1928, and 1929—more than a million Chinese entered Manchuria. Since then there has been some falling off, but the figures and the net gains remain substantial.

Farms in Manchuria are small, as they are everywhere in the Far East. The United States has about 6,400,000 farms in comparison with 4,800,000 farms in Manchuria. But Manchuria covers a territory only equal to that of the Dakotas, Montana, and Wyoming, so it is evident that the farms are small. In fact the average is but seven acres. As there are some quite extensive holdings, this means that a great many farms are very much less than seven acres. In the newer, less sparsely settled regions of northern Manchuria, farms are much larger. Indeed, it is reported that 15 per cent of the farmers own half the land.

Tenant Farming Common

Tenant farming has multiplied to an enormous extent even though this is a new country. In that respect the comparison with the opening of the West in America fails. In the southern central plain, where population is thickest, a large proportion of the farmers are tenants, and the average for all Manchuria shows that 30 per cent are tenants. Some of them own very small tracts, too small to make a living on and so they rent additional acres. Most of the leasing agreements are oral and, if a landlord is dissatisfied with a tenant, he has little difficulty in taking back his land. The peasant tenant has little standing.

In spite of this far from satisfactory social situation, production is large. The soybean is the chief crop, with 8,571,000 acres or nearly 25 per cent planted. Raw beans, bean cake, and bean oil have many uses. Kaoliang comes second with 7,397,000 acres. Kaoliang is a sorghum, used for both human and animal food. Millet covers 6,313,000 acres. Wheat production has varied. In 1931 it reached 58,066,000 bushels and now is about 35,000,000 bushels. Production has been as high as 16.2 bushels to the acre and as low as 9.3 bushels.

Cotton culture has not yet progressed far enough to make the country self-sustaining. In fact only about one-fourth of requirements are raised at home. But extensive plans for expansion are on foot. It is hoped to substitute cotton for other crops in southern Manchuria where the climate is more favorable. Many people cling to the idea that tobacco is a sort of American monopoly and that it was discovered by such English explorers as Sir Walter Raleigh. Manchuria has raised tobacco for centuries and has a production of 55,000,000 pounds. It is low in quality, however, only about 5,000,000 pounds being suitable for flue-curing for cigarettes.

The tale of the opening of Manchuria will never match that of the opening of the farm lands of North America, but there is presented a current story of Twentieth Century pioneering.

Economy Measure, Local Postoffice Won't Get Murals

By PAUL MAY

Washington, D. C.—The axe of economy, descending upon the Treasury Department's plan to place some form of art work in Federal buildings, has cut out art decoration scheduled for the Escanaba postoffice, it was learned today.

The Treasury's procurement division had made a study of the public lobby arrangement of the Escanaba building, and had decided that art decoration, preferably mural paintings, could be located on the lobby walls. The theme of the murals was to have involved some historical feature of local interest.

A MILLION DOLLARS

That's a heap of money but it represents the value of NEW POLICIES written for farmers of Michigan on their properties during the month of March just passed. The care and discretion exercised by this company in writing risks is continually observed. The more of such business that this company writes rebounds to the benefit of all our policy holders. "In union there is strength."

No insurance company could write such a large volume of new business in a single month unless that company has an established reputation for reliability, dependability and economy. It will pay YOU to insure your farm property in such a company.

Drive On Dogs Is Started In Earnest Today

Final warning was issued yesterday by Chief of Police M. J. Ettenhofer to owners of dogs that licenses, which may be procured at the police station, must be purchased and dogs must be kept on leash or confined at all times.

The chief said the department is through showing leniency to dog owners and, beginning today, every owner of a dog caught running loose will be haled into court and fined to the full extent of the law. Complaints that dogs have been ruining gardens have flooded the police department during the past few days and a drive is being made against dogs.

Licenses may be secured at the police station. Tags for male dogs cost $1 and for females the cost is $2.

The department was advised yesterday that Ed Courier, 1516 North 23rd Street, was bitten by a dog. The dog is under observation.

RAIL PENSION BILLS OFFERED

New Measures Provide for Eligibility Due to Sickness

Washington — Identical bills representing a compromise between railway labor and management on amendments to the railway labor pension law were introduced in both houses by Rep. Robert Crosser, Democrat, Ohio, and Senator Robert Wagner, Democrat, New York.

Crosser said that while the bill probably does not contain everything desired by both sides, "it does settle a controversy between railways and the men which has continued for some time."

The new bill would enable persons absent on account of sickness to become eligible for pensions, which is not permitted under the present law.

The Crosser-Wagner measure sets up machinery for providing pensions to rail workers, the money to be paid out of general treasury funds. A separate bill now is pending before the house ways and means committee to tax rail employers and employes to provide funds for paying the pensions. The committee is expected to report the measure favorably in the near future. It also will represent a compromise between rail management and labor and will be designed to comply with treasury estimates as to the amount of revenue needed to finance the program.

MURPHY WILL SIGN AD BILL

Development Bureau to Launch Extensive Campaign

Word was received yesterday by George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, from State Senator John Wickstrom to the effect that Governor Murphy would sign the $150,000 tourist advertising bill within a few days. The previous annual appropriation for publicizing Michigan as a vacationland has been $100,000.

Senator Wickstrom reported that he had attended a meeting of the augmented administrative board yesterday morning, at which time the governor stated he would affix his signature to the measure.

Assurance has been given that the Development Bureau will receive $25,000 this year as the 80 per cent refund on its advertising bills.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Development Bureau will be held in Marquette Saturday to place the advertising orders with the various newspapers and magazines.

DEATH CLAIMS NEWHALL MAN

Kenneth Lesway Passes Away After Year's Illness

Kenneth Lesway, 31, passed away Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock at his home in Newhall. His death followed a year's illness.

He was born May 1, 1906, in that community and his marriage to Celia LaMarshe took place on June 2, 1930. He was the son of Robert Lesway, well known Newhall resident.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Berenice Ann, 5, and Marilyn Jean, 4; two sisters, Mrs. Gust Porath of Newhall, and Florence Lesway of Elmhurst, Ill.; and two brothers, Russell of Minneapolis and Clair of Milwaukee.

The body was taken to the Allo funeral home to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, pending the arrival of members of the family.

PARKING OF ONE HOUR IS URGED

Safety Commission Asks Enforcement of Law on Ludington St.

Strict enforcement of the one-hour parking law, limiting parking on Ludington street between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. was urged by the Escanaba Safety commission held last night in the council chambers of the city hall.

Another measure affecting Ludington street traffic was a resolution recommending that all trucking moving east and west use First avenue north. This, it was pointed out, would lessen the congestion on Ludington street during the busy hours. More strict measures were suggested for use in the event that the recommendation is not followed.

The commission urged the appointment of a citizens' traffic violation committee, to be made up of local residents who are not members of the Safety commission. It was suggested that these citizens might aid the police department in reducing the number of traffic law violations by acting as special traffic observers, reporting conditions especially hazardous to children, pedestrians or motorists within the city.

Plans were considered for the organization of a safety club within the city.

Award Is Offered To Team Winning U. P. Relays Here

Teams competing in the U. P. Relays this year will have another award for which to run, Principal E. E. Edick of the Escanaba Senior high school announced yesterday. A 28-inch trophy cup, given by Council 640 of the Knights of Columbus, is offered as the winning team's award.

Heretofore there have been individual awards, but no team trophy. The new one, which is to be held by the school of the winning team, stands out even among the unusually large collection which are offered at the U. P. Relays.

Two more new trophies, replacing those which have gone into permanent possession of winning schools, have also been received. They are for the mile relay in Class B, given by the I. Stephenson company to replace the one now permanently belonging to Escanaba high school and for the Class C 880, given by Lauerman's.

LIGHT SERVICE IS INTERRUPTED

Electrical Storm Hinders City; Dust Storm Is Felt Yesterday

Extra city crews from the light department were called out to help maintain service during the hard electrical storm which struck the city early yesterday morning.

Although no great damage was reported, the city's street lights were out for some time and one residential section of the city was without lights for a few minutes. Everything was cleared up within a few hours after storm had passed. The weather bureau reported that .38 inch of precipitation had been recorded on the instruments for the 24 hour period ending at 6:30 yesterday morning.

Light rain sprinkling from an exceedingly dust-laden air left a collection of dirt on windows and automobiles yesterday afternoon. A hazy atmosphere most of the day was attributed to the large amount of dust in the air which, when carried down with the rain, collected in landing places. Visibility was reduced to about three miles.

An unusual drop in humidity of almost 50 points in less than half an hour at noon was reported by the weather bureau. The humidity reading varied from 70 down to 26 within 20 minutes and the temperature rose from approximately 60 to 70 in the corresponding time. The original humidity reading for the day was 92.

Forest service and conservation department officials consider any humidity reading below 40 as being dangerous for fires but they were not apprehensive over the reading of 26 because the rain which had fallen during the night had served to dampen ground cover, making possibility of fires very slight. Were such a humidity percentage to continue for long, however, fire conditions would again become hazardous.

The weather bureau here said dust was reported last night in the west central portion of the nation along the Canadian border. West wind was blowing, the bureau said.

JURORS ACQUIT STELLA MADDOX

Chicago Woman Found Not Guilty of Slaying Her Husband

Chicago, May 12 (AP)—A criminal court jury acquitted Mrs. Stella Maddox of charges of slaying her husband, Daniel, after 12 minutes of deliberation today.

In his closing argument, Assistant State's Attorney J. S. Boyle declared:

"Is this community going to pin medals on women who murder their husbands? Must we be that chivalrous? Because a slayer is a woman doesn't lessen her guilt."

The 26 year old defendant had testified she procured a revolver with the intention of ending her life last March 18 because her 34 year old spouse was enamored of a blonde girl named Helen. The weapon was discharged, she said, when Maddox attempted to wrest it from her hand.

Operation Will Put Powell Out 6 Weeks

New York, May 12 (AP)—Jake Powell, New York Yankee outfielder, was reported resting comfortably after an operation for appendicitis today.

Reports from the hospital said he came out of the operation in fine shape. He expected to be out of the Yankee lineup from six weeks to two months, however.

Powell was stricken with appendicitis while the Yankees were in Detroit.

Indigestion, Gas, Bloating Yield Easily to KruGon

LOCAL MAN HAS GAINED TWENTY POUNDS; STOMACH, KIDNEYS REGULATED, RHEUMATISM CONQUERED; KRUGON ACTION AMAZED HIM.

"The day of experimenting with different medicines on the market is over since KruGon can be had so easily," said Mr. August Schultz, a well known local gentleman who lives at Hardwood, Michigan (near Escanaba), re-

MR. AUGUST SCHULTZ

"KruGon is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint me," continued Mr. Schultz, "For eight years I had been troubled with rheumatism that settled in my back and shoulders until it was difficult for me to get about at times. The poisons over my system soon disordered my stomach too and I could not eat a single meal without great distress afterwards. Gas would form after eating, attacks of ingestion would come and what I endured was unbearable, but I could not do anything about it. Then to make my already miserable condition even worse my kidneys became disordered which would not allow me a good nights sleep or rest. I was tired all of the time and actually felt as if my entire system was wearing-out. Medicine after medicine failed to help me and I became discouraged, thought I was doomed to finish life in awful suffering until friends persuaded me to give this new KruGon a trial—its quick and thorough action really amazed me."

"It is hard to realize that a single medicine could give such complete satisfaction after so many others had failed to help me in the least," continued Mr. Schultz. "That dreadful rheumatism has been relieved, stomach and kidneys are again functioning properly and I can eat and enjoy my meals, sleep good the entire night through and feel fine. I have gained twenty pounds since I began this new laxative-tonic formula, enjoy new strength and energy and could not expect better results from anything. KruGon is truly one medicine that can be depended upon to give results."

KruGon is sold by West End Drug Store, 1221 Ludington St., Escanaba.

WORKERS GUESTS AT CORONATION

Mingling with the lords and ladies of England on coronation day were four workers, representatives of British industry, chosen in accordance with the king's wishes. Pete Sivess took over the mound duties for the Phillies.

GAS FIELD FOUND

Six Lakes (AP)—Leslie T. Barber, of Edmore, announced Wednesday that a new natural gas deposit had been discovered in Montcalm county that may rival the rich Hinton-Millbrook-Belvidere field. Barber, a former state representative, said the new field will be known as the Wolverine-Belvidere field.

day to walk out if the company failed to sign a contract.

(By The Associated Press)

An agreement to return to work as usual today (Thursday) was reached last (Wednesday) night a few hours after a sit-down strike closed the Fisher Body plant No. 2 at Flint and caused stoppage of the Chevrolet Motor company's assembly line.

The men agreed to return to work when a conference with the management on their demands was promised. One report said that about 25 men sat down yesterday afternoon, demanding an increase of 5 cents an hour.

About 2,000 workers in the two General Motors plants were affected by the strike.

Roy Reuther, United Automobile Workers organizer, hastened to Flint from Detroit to confer with the Fisher management after the sit-down started. Reuther said some men in the spot welding department were getting less than others and that "they want equal pay for equal work. They are demanding $1.05 an hour."

The strike started as conferences at Saginaw sought settlement of the dispute which closed the Chevrolet foundry employing 5,500 persons there.

Picket Detroit Theatres

Also conferring at Saginaw were A.A.W. representatives and officials of the Consumers Power company, discussing union demands for higher wages for the utility's employes in the Saginaw valely.

The strikes affecting two of Grand Rapids' furniture factories, the Robert W. Irwin company and the Macey company, continued without sign of negotiations with employes represented by the U. A. W. A.

Homer Martin, union president, announced in Detroit that the auto workers would assign four pickets to each of 11 theatres in the city in support of the strike of the Federated Motion Picture Crafts in Hollywood. Starting Thursday, he said, the pickets would be on duty from 10:30 a.m. to 9 p. m.

College Athletes Compete In Meet At East Lansing

East Lansing, May 12 (AP)—The 22nd annual state intercollegiate track and field meet scheduled for Friday and Saturday at State's new track and field plant will bring together 14 Michigan college teams and 170 athletes.

Michigan State college tops the list with 39 entries in the 17 events on the two-day program. Michigan Normal college and Western State Teachers' college have entered 26 men each.

Other colleges which have signed to compete are Alma, Albion, Grand Rapids Junior college, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, Northern State Teachers, Olivet, University of Detroit, Wayne, Central State and Hope.

The greatest concentration of athletes will be in the 440 yard run, with 38 men entered in the quarter mile sprint.

The meet is expected to develop into a triangular race for honors, with Wayne, Michigan Normal and Michigan State college battling for top position. Western State Teachers college is looked upon as the dark horse of the meet.

Fun, but Don't Get Rattled

Sneaking up on a snake looks easy the way Oklahomans did it in Blaine county's annual rattlesnake hunt recently. First, find a rattler and pin him down with a forked stick. Then, as Mark Garvey, champion hunter, demonstartes at right in top photo, grab the reptile just back of the head. Lifting the snake's rock shelter with his stick is Fred Bennett. To show off your prize, especially a nine-rattler, take a hint from John Garvey, lower left, and wear leather gloves. But, according to Maxine Bennett, lower right, Mr. Snake is still a public menace until he's in the bag.

Baseman Acquired By Reds To Help Bolster Line-up

Cincinnati, May 12 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds bought a veteran first baseman today and returned Chick Hafey to the active list in their drive to pull themselves out of the National league cellar and into the first division for the first time in a decade.

Vice-President Warren C Giles announced in New York the purchase in a straight cash deal, amount undisclosed, of Baxter Jordan, for six years first baseman of the Boston Bees. Jordan has a major league batting average of 301 and hit .323 last season. He was a holdout this spring and lost his job to the rookie, Elbert Fletcher.

The club's headquarters here received word from Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis that Hafey, former National league batting champion, had been returned to the active list. Hafey is expected here tomorrow to attempt his comeback after a season and a half of voluntary retirement due to sinus trouble.

The addition of Jordan and Hafey makes necessary the trimming by three of the club's roster by May 23 when all clubs must cut their squads to 23 players. It is expected that either First Baseman Les Scarsella or Frank McCormick will be sent to Syracuse for seasoning and that at least one of the young pitchers will be farmed out in similar fashion.

The Colorado river basin covers about one-thirteenth of the area of the United States, yet has a population with its limits only as large as the state of Rhode Island.

More than 7,000 fainted among those who gathered through the night to cheer. It was the greatest crush London has known. Two died, a girl fell down an elevator shaft and a youth was killed fighting in the crowd.

Rain fell as the monarchs left the abbey in early afternoon, but the crowd stuck it out and there were cheers and shouts at every turn of the long route homeward, where George in the evening broadcast to the empire his thanks to his half billion subjects.

"The queen and I will always keep in our hearts the inspiration of this day," he said. "May we ever be worthy of the good will which I am proud to think surrounds us at the outset of my reign.

"I thank you from my heart and may God bless you all."

Hundreds in Abbey

Seventy-seven hundred bejeweled and rich-robed peers and peeresses, lords and members of parliament, visiting royalty, envoys of Britain's dominions and of foreign governments watched the centuries-old ceremony of coronation, the placing of the crown which Edward renounced for love.

The climax came at 12:30 p. m. The Venerable Archbishop of Canterbury stepped before the altar and took into his hands the crown of St. Edward.

In prayer he intoned:

"O God, the crown of the faithful: Bless we beseech Thee and sanctify this Thy servant George our King: And as Thou dost this day set a crown of pure gold upon his head, so enrich his royal heart with Thine abundant grace, and crown him with all princely virtues, through the King Eternal Jesus Christ our Lord."

Then reverently he placed the crown upon the king's bowed head.

There was a great shout "God save the King."

Brother Forgotten

Trumpets sounded. Guns in the tower of London boomed. The crowds outside took up the cry. Radio and cable carried the word and round the world in Britain's far flung domain, other cannon roared and other crowds echoed the shout.

A new king was crowned. He had received the sceptre, "ensign of kingly power and justice." In clear and steady voice he had taken the oath to rule justly.

He was proclaimed under the blessing of the church to rule the peoples of Great Britain, Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, of the British possessions and territories and the Indian empire. He was also priset, titular head of the English church and pledged to defense of the faith.

By his side was 37-year-old Elizabeth, born a commoner but with her own crown of gold and pledged to rule with him over Britain's half-billion subjects.

Thus on the day and at the hour set for Edward of England, George accepted his brother's discarded mantle of kingship.

And all his family save Edward watched the glorious spectacle, while at the same moment a new dispute arose over the exile's marriage to Wallis Warfield, the American born commoner that Britain would not have as queen.

(By The Associated Press)

London—George VI and Queen Elizabeth were crowned in Westminster Abbey; millions cheered them along the route from Buckingham Palace.

Monts—The Duke of Windsor, who might have been crowned himself, listened to a radio broadcast of the ceremony with Mrs. Wallis Warfield and then played golf.

Rome—Italy, angered by English press jibes, virtually ignored the coronation. The official news agency carried one line concerning the ceremony but reported Irish anti-coronation disorders.

Dublin—The Irish Free State took almost no notice of a coronation for the first time in 800 years.

Sydney—Even desert aborigines feasted as Australia celebratd the coronation.

Colon—British steamship offices and vessels at Cristobal, Canal Zone, were decked with flags.

Shanghai—British military forces in China and Hongkong celebrated elaborately; Italian men-o-war recently occupying places in "navy row" off the Shanghai waterfront moved down the Woosung river; many believed it was to avoid joining British, American and other foreign ships in displaying colors in honor of the coronation.

Donates Trophies

Denton T. "Cy" Young (above), famed in past years as a baseball pitcher, announced at his home in Dover, O., he would give all his baseball trophies to the baseball hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., to which he was elected recently.

STUDENT CONVICTED

Ann Arbor (AP)—Tom Downs, 20, of Spokane, Wash., a University of Michigan sophomore, was convicted of a disorderly conduct charge in connection with a picketing demonstration at a bowling alley April 8 by Justice Jay H. Payne Wednesday. Downs, president of the Student Workers' Federation, was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs of $13.40 or spend 10 days in jail. He appealed the conviction.

Summer Fashions Shown at Woman's Club Style Review

An attractive presentation of all that is new and smart in summer fashions featured the Escanaba Woman's club annual style show and tea, staged Wednesday afternoon and evening, in cooperation with the Fair Store, at the Sherman hotel.

The modes were displayed by a group of five pretty models, Margaret O'Connell, Ruth Kasischke, Nellie Bartley, Beverly Brunette and Celeste Allard, Miss O'Connell and Miss Brunette, of Gladstone.

Opening with the presentation of the prize winning early American costumes, the period costume of 1803, of dusty pink with its polk bonnet and muff, and the Gibson Girl costume of 1903, the show displayed summer suits of light and dark materials, with smart accessories of contrasting shades; street ensembles of dress and swagger coat, in lovely color combinations, spectator sports, afternoon print chiffons, a number of jacket models and active sports wear, including play suits, beach suits, and beach ensembles. The ultra-smart combination of white lace and black satin was one of the high-lights of the show.

The closing of the fashion show was a beautiful wedding ensemble in which all five models took part, the bride in white chiffon, with a long train, and a long veil fashioned to a coronet of tiny pearls, and her attendants in lovely gowns of chartreuse, pink, periwinkle blue and acquamarine, with hairbraid hats. The bride carried a cresent bouquet of white and her attendants bridesmaid's bouquets of the latest design. Little Barbara Walch and Ruth Stack, in dainty white frocks, were the train bearers.

The tea, served in connection with the style show, was attractively appointed with low bowls of yellow woods flowers centering the tables.

Orchestra Program

Members of the Escanaba high school orchestra, who, under the direction of R. P. Bowers, played an excellent program during the show in the afternoon and evening, were Pauline Johnson, David Charland, Hinds Cunningham, Josephine Zajkowski, Glendola Hanson, Dick Hoyler, Dorothy Boyle, Regina Bergman, Loretta Lutz, Rhea Samuels, Betty Tousignant, Madelyn Shaw and Elaine Brown.

McMILLAN NEWS

Huge Success

McMillan, Mich.—One of the most sparkling senior plays presented here in recent years was witnessed Friday evening in the Lincoln school auditorium by a capacity audience when "Black Cats", a three-act farce comedy directed by B. Q. Wills took the spectators safely through the tangled Burkett and Crane family affairs.

The play was well coached, well delivered and each member of the cast was very well suited for the character each portrayed. All during the performance, action was rapid and the audience was kept in good humor by the many laughs the play provided.

In the beginning of the play, Margy, (Barbara Norris) the wife of Henry Burkett, (Jack Thibadeau) is very worried about her husband. It is early morning, and Henry had left the night before to go to the station to meet an old college chum of his, Mart Poindexter (William Ney). Sue Jarvis, (Jessie Hanger), Margy's friend tells her all of her troubles. Katie (Marion Reese) the maid, brings in a telegram which states that Margy's mother, Mrs. Crane (Lillian Fritz), is coming that morning. This makes things worse, for she doesn't like Henry, and is always finding fault with him. When Mrs. Crane asked for Henry, Margy lies about him merely saying that he had just gone out. Later Henry and Mart came home talking about the "Black Cats" and wrecked flivvers and jails. Margy tries to find out where they have been and Mrs. Crane finds a purse and gloves in Henry's coat pocket.

Amos Steele, (Hugh Norton), the handy man and Hiram Hannibal, (Gerald Ney), arrive and Laurette Day, (Nellie Trim), entertainer and owner of the purse and gloves. More lies are told.

Toward the end the mixup is straightened out and the play comes to a happy ending.

Conservation Is Topic at Meeting of Woman's Club

In an interesting and unusual lecture delivered Wednesday afternoon before the Escanaba Woman's club at the Sherman hotel, Miss Margaret March-Mount brought to the women of this city the message of the Forest Service.

The speaker is a representative of the Department of Education and Information of the United States Forest Service.

"Lumber production, watershed protection, recreation, wild life, scenic values—these constitute the theme of the Forest Service" stated the speaker.

Emphasizing the importance of women in conservation work, Miss March-Mount said that her work is to interpret the aims of the Forest Service and she told of a number of things that women can do to help in furthering these aims. "Women like strong, inflexible men that they can wind around their little fingers," she said, "and men like clinging vines that can tend furnaces and plant pines."

Touches Every Pocketbook

Continuing with this idea she stated that the work of conservation touches every pocketbook and every standard of life; women realize this, and there are 5,000,000 of them back of the forest service program.

Since being located in Upper Michigan, Miss March-Mount has come to believe that this region is the nucleus of the new conservation policy.

"Adopt orphan acres is the motto in the lake states," she continued; "the aim of the service is to get these orphan acres reforested."

Some of the pithy sayings of her lecture follow:

"Forestry is just a better sense of housekeeping."

"Our main interest is recreational; how much of human health and happiness per acre."

"Our progress is measured by the use we make of our land."

"The government department of conservation wants to help people to help themselves in cut-over lands by teaching them to replant denuded areas."

"There are forest slums to be cleaned up."

"Build and reforest where the floods begin in order to control floods."

"Forested land soaks up water 50 per cent faster than farm land."

"We talk about dikes and dams, but reforestation is the solution."

"Women's cigarettes make just as hot fires as men's."

"Our ambition is to have a conservation plank in the platforms of all big organizations."

"The General Federation of Women's clubs is the strongest organized power on earth."

"We must dramatize reforestation. The slogan of 'Three pines for a penny' has seized the imagination of the country."

"Last year we made an all-time record in fire control. There were more fires, but a smaller acreage burned out."

"We established an all-time record in forest planting, and Michigan led the states."

"Talking forestry is like talking peace."

In closing, the speaker quoted from the New Testament: "The leaves of the forest were for the healing of the nation." She then concluded with the statement: "Forestry service requires team work, and needs the best minds and the warmest hearts of all."

Mrs. Frank Crow, chairman of the Conservation committee of the Woman's club, was chairman of the meeting, other members of the committee acted as hostesses.

Theatres

"Internes Can't Take Money," a highly romantic drama, came to the Delft theatre last night with that splendid pair of screen lovers, Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea in the leading roles.

Both enact their parts, she as an unemployed girl with a past, and he as a young interne, with the charm that has made of them the favorite romantic film pair of millions. Lloyd Nolan is also in the cast in a splendid role.

"Internes Can't Take Money" is a powerful story of a dilemma which arises when McCrea finds it impossible to take a fee from a patient which would make it possible for him to wed Miss Stanwyck and to bring her happiness by reuniting her with her child by a previous marriage. Miss Stanwyck does not understand why McCrea cannot take the money and they part after a quarrel.

SCOTT'S DAIRY

Read These Statements

Gladstone, Mich.
May 12, 1937

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I have this day examined the Scott Dairy property located in the city of Gladstone and have found it in a very sanitary and cleanly condition, as regards the handling of the milk and sterilization of all milk containers.

J. Mitchell, M. D.
(City Health Officer)

May 12, 1937

This morning it was my privilege to witness the complete operation of a modern milk plant as installed and used at the Scott Dairy. I am convinced that every safeguard has been thrown about the milk and milk products supplied by this company to our community.

From the time the milk is received, pasteurized, bottled and capped it is not touched by human hands. The automatic bottle washer absolutely guarantees a clean, sterile bottle and the general cleanliness of the plant and of its white clothed operators gives one an assurance that in so far as this dairy is concerned the health of our community is being safeguarded to the limit.

Respectfully,
A. H. Miller, M. D.

Gladstone, Mich.

Being invited by H. K. Cavill to make a visit and inspection of the Scott Dairy Co., plant at Gladstone, I was impressed by the cleanliness and sanitation of the plant and the operators. The visit convinced me that the methods and sanitation of bottling, etc., was above reproach.

BOARD GRANTS PAY INCREASES

Finance Recommendation Ignored; Clerks and Deputies Benefit

Munising, May 12—In a hectic session in the courthouse here last night, county supervisors approved increases in mileage for county employees and made other allowances in wage increases. Refusing to adopt the recommendations of the finance committee who were ordered to make a study of the situation and report at last night's meeting, the supervisors in an overtime meeting passed a resolution allowing the county prosecutor $50 per month for a stenographer and payment of his lights and telephone; increased the mileage of county officers from five to seven cents per mile; increased the deputy county treasurer's salary from $60 to $75 effective May 1, 1937; raised the deputy county clerk's stipend from $60 to $75 effective August 1, 1937; raised prisoners' board allowance at the county jail from 22 to 35 cents per meal; and approved the hiring of a part-time stenographer at $33.33 per month for the probate judge.

Earlier in the day they authorized the county treasurer to accept payment of delinquent taxes by the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company at an eight per cent discount, and ordered the payment to the township boards of education of monies applied on the county's institutional debt by the auditor-general's department. The treasurer was also authorized to pay the state institutional debt statement for the quarter ending June 30, 1936 amounting to $2,256.29.

The board adopted a resolution similar to one passed previously by the Chippewa county board of supervisors asking that state representatives and senators be asked to pass legislation prohibiting the exchange of state conservation department lands with the federal government and depriving the counties of tax revenue.

A resolution allowing the members of the board an extra day for overtime meetings was also passed.

Manistique Coast Guard Bill Okehed By Treasury Dep't

Washington, D. C.—It was announced by Rep. John Luecke, of this district, that H. R. 3414, which provides for the construction and maintenance of a coast guard station at Manistique, Mich., has been favorably reported on by the treasury department.

The bill, which is being considered by the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries, was introduced by Rep. Luecke in the early days of the present session of congress.

A series of fatalities and near-tragedies over a long period of years, together with the need for more adequate protection of fishermen and those engaged in marine commerce in the vicinity of Manistique were the determining factors in the treasury department's favorable report on the bill.

Luecke expressed himself as being pleased with the action of treasury officials in commending the measure, as bills frowned on by the treasury department are seldom reported out favorably by the committee.

Several Changes in Public School System Are Announced

Several teachers in the Manistique public school system have tendered their resignations here, effective at the close of the present school year, and other teachers have been appointed to fill the vacancies, Superintendent A. F. Hall announced yesterday. Only one vacancy remains to be filled.

Teachers who will not be in the Manistique school system include James Booker, biology and freshman English teacher in the high school, who has accepted a position at Alpena; Miss Mary Robbins, Latin and English teacher; Miss Dorothy Van Dyck, eighth grade English and seventh grade arithmetic teacher in the junior high school; Mrs. Jack Williams, principal of Lakeside school; Susan Palmer, Lincoln third grade teacher; Miss Gertrude Kee, kindergarten teacher at Lakeside and Central schools.

Miss Robbins has been in the local school system for eight years and desires a change to another school system as does Miss Van Dyck. Mrs. Williams was married during the school year and will retire from the teaching profession at the close of the present school year. Miss Palmer has accepted a position in the Midland school system and Miss Kee has accepted a position as kindergarten teacher in the Muskegon school system.

New Teachers Hired

Others who started the school year as teachers in the Manistique schools but who resigned during the year are Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Lincoln school kindergarten teacher and Miss Monica McConnell, fifth and sixth grade teacher in the Central school. Miss McConnell was succeeded by Miss Rose Green. The death of Miss Helen Lea, commercial teacher, recently also has caused a vacancy which will be filled with a new teacher next fall.

Among the new teachers already hired for next year are the following: Alton Bjork, graduate of North Dakota Teachers college, replacing Miss Lea as commercial instructor in the high school; Catherine Heimes, North Dakota Teachers college, replacing Miss Robbins; Helen Bierma, graduate of Morton Junior college, Northwest university, for a grade position; Inez Passenheim, Alma college, for a grade position; Dale D. Croskery, Central State Teachers college, Mount Pleasant, replacing Miss Van Dyck; Alice Tucker, St. Theresa college, for part time work in the junior high school; Betty Armstrong, Northwestern university and Pestalozzi Froebel Teachers college, for kindergarten position; Bernadine Weber, North Dakota Teachers college, for grade position. All of the newly appointed teachers have had teaching experience except Miss Armstrong.

The only vacancy remaining to be filled is that caused by the resignation of Mr. Booker. A number of applications have been received and this appointment will probably be made within a couple of weeks.

Six Trailers Stop At Tourist Park

Work is progressing nicely on Manistique's tourist trailer park, City Manager P. H. Beauvais reported yesterday although considerable work still remains before the project, being done by WPA labor, is completed.

Six car trailers stopped on the park this week, two from Nebraska, two from Ohio, and one each from Minnesota and Kansas. It is expected that the park will prove distinctly popular with trailer tourists this summer.

In addition to the landscaping work, the construction of comfort stations, a septic tank and disposal field still remain to be completed.

CHAPTER XIX

Sybil came into the office Thursday morning. She descended upon it with breath-taking glamour, striking the impressionable young office girls speechless with awe and admiration. The eyes of the new receptionist popped as she looked up.

As Sybil sailed past her, the girl recalled strict orders that all visitors were to be announced. Hastily she jumped to her feet and placed herself in Sybil's path.

"Whom do you wish to see, please?" she stammered, apologetically.

Sybil raised her eyebrows. "Mr. Hendry, of course," she said with hauteur. "I am Miss Hendry."

"Oh." The receptionist stepped aside. "Then I guess it's all right for you to go in." She smiled, undisguised admiration shining in her bright eyes.

Sybil hesitated. "On second thought," she said, "I believe I shall see Mr. Andrews first. Is he in?"

"I'll see." The girl phoned Bob's office and announced his visitor. "Please go right in, Miss Hendry," she said immediately. "Do you know which is Mr. Andrews' office?"

"Yes, indeed."

Ten or 15 minutes later, Sybil and Bob entered Joan's office together. Joan was surprised to see Sybil, but she greeted her cordially.

"Sybil wants us out for dinner tonight, Joan?" he stated, questioningly.

"Tonight?" she repeated, wondering if he had already accepted the invitation.

"Yes. I explained that I'm leaving for Washington at midnight—"

"You can come, nevertheless," Sybil interrupted. "It's just a quiet family party, Joan. Just the three of us and my uncle. Thursday, you know, is Abraham's regular night out, and I like to have Uncle John dine with me. He dislikes restaurants . . ."

* * *

Mr. Hendry, however, pleaded a dinner engagement with his friend Norton, and Sybil insisted that the date stand, just for the three of them—Bob, Joan and herself.

"I know you aren't keen about it," Bob apologized to Joan after Sybil had gone, "but there just didn't seem any way out of it."

"I don't mind at all," Joan assured him, smiling. But she remembered Dorothy's words about Sybil's feeling for Bob, and she felt vaguely uneasy. It was peculiar that Sybil should have gone to Bob's office first, to invite him before she had spoken to the others.

"Well, mind," Bob said heartily. "I'd rather have you to myself tonight. I may be gone two whole days—"

"Two whole days!" Joan laughed, reassured.

She promised herself that she would not be intimidated this time. It would be different, with Bob at her side. She would have to be on her guard, of course. If Dorothy's suspicion were indeed correct, and Sybil did love Bob, this might be more of her subtle strategy to make him see the difference between herself and Joan before it was too late.

And Joan realized, only too well, that in any social struggle with Sybil, she would come out very much the loser.

The dinner, of course, was perfect. Joan wondered if she would ever be able to do as well in her own home. She doubted it. There was Jennings, for one thing. She knew that there would never be a place for him—or anyone like him—in their future home. Bob would agree with her in that. Rather for them, a genial black Abraham, or a homely, hearty Mrs. McDonald. And upon neither of these could one depend for formal perfection.

* * *

"Your dinners are always perfect, Sybil," Bob commented, as they finished dessert.

"I'm so glad you enjoy them, Bob," Sybil replied graciously. "It is always such a pleasure to have you here . . . Shall we have coffee in the living room? We can take our time there . . ." She rose and led the way.

A moment later, she remarked: "I am sorry that you must leave early, Bob. What time is the train?"

"Midnight. But I want to stop at the Inn first to see your uncle."

"Did he and Mr. Norton dine at the Inn?" Sybil was surprised.

"They intended to, I believe."

"I suppose," she reflected, "that I might have asked them both to join us. But I assumed that they were staying in town."

Bob shook his head. "I wish they had," he said cryptically.

"Why?"

"Oh, we had some difficulty at the office this afternoon . . ."

Joan tried to catch his eye, but they were seated side by side on the divan, and Sybil, opposite, was watching too closely. It was not wise, she thought, to discuss that affair too freely. Even though Sybil were Mr. Hendry's own niece.

"What happened?" Sybil asked with curiosity.

"The owner of this mine your uncle has arranged to buy," Bob went on to explain, "sent word that he'd be in town this Saturday to complete the sale. He wants his money in cash—forty thousand dollars."

"In cash?" Sybil exclaimed.

Bob nodded. "It sounds crazy, I know. But that's the way it is. Well, it takes a bit of financial juggling to get that much cash together. Mr. Hendry arranged for the sale of certain securities, to be paid for in cash, thinking the sale would go through tomorrow. Instead, however, it was made this afternoon, and about ten minutes after your uncle left, the messenger showed up with approximately forty thousand dollars in cash, to be paid over to Mr. Hendry personally."

"And you left it in the office?" Sybil asked eagerly.

"No. The messenger wanted it out of his hands as quickly as possible, but his orders were to give it to nobody but Mr. Hendry himself. So he came out here to Green Hills with it.'

* * *

Sybil gasped. "Oh, you shouldn't have let him do that!" she said. She looked at Joan, as if to put the responsibility for such stupidity upon her alone.

"There was no way of preventing it," Bob explained. "The banks were closed; by that time the brokerage office was closed. And the messenger wasn't going to have that much cash on him over night. You can't blame him."

"It sounds very dangerous to me," Sybil said.

"The only danger," Joan offered, "is in having the fact known. And we took care in the office that it didn't leak out."

"But the messenger?" Sybil asked. "Suppose he tells someone?"

"He's not likely to," Bob assured her. "He's responsible—and bonded." Then, in a lighter tone: "But suppose we stop worrying about it. I've said altogether too much myself . . . What's Philip doing with himself these days, Sybil? I haven't seen him since the holidays."

A peculiar smile came to Sybil's lips. "Philip's been out of town," she announced. "He's been in Chicago since the first of April and then he was sent to Seattle.

Joan's heart turned over.

"He's working?" Bob inquired with interest.

"Yes. And doing well, too."

"Just what is he doing?"

"He's making some sort of a—oh, a survey, I guess you would call it." Sybil pretended to be groping for the right words. "However, I've been cautioned not to discuss it, for the time being."

Bob reached for a cigaret.

"Your uncle told me he was selling bonds," he contradicted mildly. "Mr. Hendry seemed quite pleased about it."

Sybil was not dismayed. "There's a certain amount of selling in the work, I suppose." She laughed lightly, accepting a cigaret as Bob passed them. "Really, Bob, you mustn't ask me. When it comes down to business, I don't understand one detail from another. More coffee, Joan?"

Joan looked up suddenly and met Sybil's eyes.

"No, thank you," she said with perfect composure. "One cup is quite enough."

"But that was only a demitasse . . '."

"It was plenty, nevertheless." She smiled, to soften the refusal.

Sybil's laugh rang out prettily. "You're not afraid of coffee keeping you awake at night, are you?" she asked gayly.

"Not at all."

"I should hope not. A lovely young girl like you could hardly have anything on her mind sufficient to keep her awake nights."

Bob grinned. "Not while she has me to dream about," he suggested happily.

Joan fought to maintain her composure. Was it coincidence that had taken Philip to Chicago and then to Seattle? Was Sybil telling the truth about his new job? Or was it a survey for Sybil that he was making,—or for Mr. Hendry—a survey into the background of Joan Barrett?

It seemed almost as if Sybil were trying to tell her that. To frighten her away, perhaps, and leave the field clear for her conquest of Bob.

But she would not be frightened. Let Philip survey Seattle, if he must. Dorothy Starke could offset any stories that he might bring back . . .

Out in the hallway, the telephone rang, and Joan heard Jennings answer it. A moment later he appeared at the door: "Long distance for you, Miss Sybil," he announced.

Sybil rose quickly. "That may be Philip now," she remarked . . . "Will you both excuse me?"

When she returned to the living room several minutes later, there was a malevolent gleam in her eyes. She looked straight at Joan as she said: "It was Philip, phoning from San Francisco. And he told me that he's just unearthed some choice gossip!"

Joan paled. Now she was certain about Philip's survey.

Doings About Capitol

Lansing—In session now four months, Michigan's legislature faces a heavy program of incompleted business that has prompted a decision by Gov. Frank Murphy, Speaker George A. Schroeder and Lieut. Gov. Nowicki, presiding officer of the senate, to keep legislators on the grind from six to eight more weeks.

The civil service bill, already passed by the senate, was sidetracked in the house by a rebellion among democrats over a dearth of political plums. Patronage "pap" is sought by leaders to sweeten up hostile legislators, many of whom feel that the governor has "neglected" them in preference to the more pleasant duties of speech-making in New York, Washington, and elsewhere.

At a party caucus held in the Tally-Ho club, liquor-serving establishment a block from the capitol and just closed as a "fire trap", Governor Murphy renewed his insistent demands for enactment of a civil service law. He conceded to house requests that present state employees be given preferential consideration.

Social Legislation

Also on the administration legislative program are the following:

Labor relations measure giving the governor powers of a strike dictator. Organized labor is critical of the responsibilities, not found in the federal Wagner act for interstate commerce, which the Murphy bill would impose on employees in intrastate commerce, and strong pressure is being applied to have the bill amended in the house this week when the bill is due to be reported on general orders.

Minimum wage legislation for women and minors. House bill 66 by Rep. Charles Snow Jr. of Jackson, which has passed the house, calls for a 48-hour, six-day week with hour exemption for canning factories and women executives who receive $30 or more a week and with modifications for Christmas and Easter trade seasons. Senator Roosevelt's minimum wage bill, setting up wage boards for each occupation, was favored by both employers and employees at a public hearing.

Occupational disease legislation. Already passed by the senate and house.

Teachers' tenure bill.

Hospital building bill to provide needed facilities for insane and mental defectives.

Rural Electrification

With the blessings of the state administration, the house recently passed a rural electrification bill (House bill 51) which gives three or more persons the right to incorporate an electric membership corporation, to condemn rights of way, and to operate without control or supervision from the public utilities commission or any other state department in establishment of rates.

The sponsors, Reps. Frederick Kappler of Lake Linden and Charles M. Myers of Dowagiac, defeated attempts to "cripple" the bill with regulatory amendments.

Criticism by C. L. Brody, secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau: "This bill as it stands contains faults so serious that unless they are remedied, it ought to be defeated. . . The bill is an ideal measure for the creation of a gigantic electrical racket at the expense of the farmers it claims to serve."

In the meanwhile, the U. S. rural electrification administration (REA in the New Deal alphabet) granted $2,810,000 to build 2,464 miles of lines in Cass, Berrien, St. Joseph, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Allegan, Barry, Ottawa and Ionia counties.

Murphy to Washington?

A New Yorker, coming to Lansing on business last week, heard this "gossip" in legislative corridors at the capitol:

Governor Frank Murphy is slated for a cabinet position at Washington, D. C., probably as secretary of labor. An appointment as supreme court justice is also possible. As soon as the social legislation program is enacted by the legislature, Murphy's appointment will be made by the President.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, would be Murphy's choice as a successor, and Lieut.Governor Nowicki, an engineer, would go to the highway department berth.

Purely as gossip, all this is good fuel for the hot stove political league on cool May evenings.

Relief "Waste"

Charges of extravagence and waste in spending of public relief money were made in the house recently by Rep. Elton Eaton, newspaper publisher at Plymouth, following months of careful investigation in gathering evidence. Eaton centered criticism on Dr. William Haber, director of the SERA, and on Fred E. Levi, $500 a month director of the Welfare and Relief Study commission which completed its work last December. Levi has been drawing his monthly check since that time.

While Rep. Vernon Brown of Mason introduced a bill to repeal the 1933 emergency act creating the SERA, house democrats joined in condemnation of relief spending. Rep. Clyde Stout of Ionia favored return of welfare responsibilities to the counties. Rep. Charles Sundrom of Michigamme charged relief inefficiency in the upper peninsula, declaring he had even seen a banker taking home a relief ham.

The governor, praising Dr. Haber, said that the welfare director has asked to be relieved Jan. 1 but had been persuaded to stay on the job.

Modern Aladdin's Lamp

Like fantastic tales of the California gold rush or of Aladdin's magic lamp of oriental fame are the strange stories that come from the oil fields around Gladwin and Beavertown. Labor has gone up to $1.50 an hour; a room may cost $15 a week.

Consider the case of the grocer who took in a 10-acre plot of sand land on a small bill years ago. He received $3,000 in oil royalties in three months.

Or the farmer, hard-pressed to save his property from mortgage foreclosure, who received $700 in royalties in one week from an oil well, a roaring gusher.

Gladwin, a boom town, tells the story of a widow who deeded a note holder a number of acres of sand land. One month ago the land was sold for $3,700. The happy ending to this story, in our judgment, came when the new owner gave the poor widow half of the sales price.

CITY BUDGET IS ADOPTED

Tax Levy Totals $28,909; Rate To Be $14.98 Per $1,000

A city budget for the fiscal year 1937-38 setting total anticipated expenditures of $66,452 of which $28,909 is to be raised by taxation was adopted by the city commission Tuesday evening.

Only one change was made in the budget as submitted by City Manager E. H. Waterhouse at the previous meeting, an additional $650 being appropriated for the fire fund to assist in paying the salary of an additional fireman which the city will place to work allowing regular members of the department 24 hours off in every 48 hours.

The total appropriation is over $5,000 less than last year due to the difference in the city's share of the street paving program. The levy is $268 less than that of last year.

Based on an assumed total assessed valuation of $1,930,000 the tax rate will amount to $14.98 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The budget as adopted:

Fund	Approp.	Levy
Interest	$ 4,995	$ 280
Bond-Sinking	9,200	1,200
Fire	7,875	4,439
Police	6,253	6,045
Welfare	5,180	5,120
Cemetery	1,925	625
Street	12,755	1,380
Sewer	3,915	3,615
Park	1,643	1,630
General	7,326	2,700
Contingent	5,385	1,875
Totals	$66,452	$28,909

Changes Explained

Some of the changes for the year in comparison with last year's budget and the reasons for them follow:

Interest charges are reduced $385 by payment of bonds. A credit from the sinking funds savings accounts and interest on $800 of special assessment bonds to be purchased Sept. 1 is added, the net result being a reduction of $570 in the tax levy.

Estimated light earnings are slightly reduced because of a proposed rate change. This results in an increase of $200 in the tax levy.

Anticipated expenditures in health and welfare departments are adjusted to conform with experience of past year. Added is a sum of $600 to cover bills of the Ann Arbor hospital incurred in the previous year but not yet rendered.

The combination levy for this fund is increased $390 because of back hospital bills. The tax to be collected by the county will result in a saving to the city but as it is now in effect until Jan. 1 this saving is not reflected in this year's budget.

In the police fund the increase is $340 due to additional moneys for salary raises and also $300 for purchase of a new squad car.

Increased salaries and vacation expense allowance results for most of the $815 levy increase in the fire department fund. The allowance for the firemen's tournament, a service bonus, is increased.

Some administrative expense is charged to streets and in accordance with recent ruling of the attorney general the charge for street lighting is taken from the general fund and added to the street fund. The increase in this fund totals $450.

A net increase in sewer fund of $535 is due to anticipated expense on Minneapolis sewer.

With increase in park area and development of harbor facilities more labor is required which together with small increases in other items causes an increase in levy of $27.

The reduction of $2,145 in general fund is due to street lighting being taken from this fund and also to increase of estimated receipts, based on previous year.

City hall fuel has been taken from contingent fund and election expense cut to allow for only two elections. $200 is added because of hospital and semi-centennial expense and $300 added for reserve for tax delinquencies. Receipts being reduced $10 a net increase of $455 results.

Cemetery levy reduced $75 despite salary increase. Provision is also made for possible necessity of replacing the mower and $100 is added for alteration and repair of pumping plant.

BY FREDERICK GARDNER
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 12 (AP)—The stock market lost ground again today after an early run-up led by rails.

The convalescing trend of the morning lifted many leaders fractions to 2 or more points. But the list developed a selling temperature in the final hour which burned out most advances.

Wall Street found little in the news especially inspiring and the buying flurry of the first hour was attributed principally to quick-turn traders attempting to cash in on a technical rally after the recent sharp set-back.

With London markets closed for the coronation, little aid came from overseas. Public participation was also at a minimum.

The ticker tape merely crawled throughout the greater part of the day and transfers amounted to only 673,976 shares compared with 748,854 yesterday. It was one of the slowest 5 hours in the past 12 months. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks yielded .1 of a point at 67.3.

Utilities were a depressing influence from the start, the average for the group finishing off .4 of a point at 42.4,a low mark since December 16, 1935. In addition to tax fears, power and light company issues were affected in some degree by a contra-seasonal decline in electricity output for the week ended May 8.

Carriers were spurred on their initial recovery by forecasts earnings for the second quarter would be the best since 1930. Steels, up for a time, slipped at the last. "Iron Age" noted that, while production is proceeding at a relatively high level, new orders are still shrinking.

A spirit damper was seen in the transfer of a stock exchange seat for $96,000, off $4,000 from the last sale.

Bonds and commodities furnished no great inspiration for the share division, the majority moving unevenly.

Utilities Decline; Push Others Down

New York, May 12 (AP)—A late decline in utilities exerted a downward pull in the curb market today, although a few industrials and aircrafts closed higher.

The power issues were affected by the heaviness of Electric Bond & Share and American Gas & Electric. The former closed at 16¾, off 1 3-8, and the latter at 31¾, off ¾.

Oils and metals were pushed down fractions to a point, but fair gains were recorded by Pan American Airways at 64 5-8, Pepperell Manufacturing at 136 and McWilliams Dredging at 27¼.

Aluminum Co. of America scored an early gain of 5, but carried a relatively small part to the close.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, May 12—Dust storms in the northwest turned wheat prices upward late today offsetting earlier declines associated with Liverpool and Winnipeg trade suspension because of coronation ceremonies.

Reports of dust storms came from both sides of the Canadian border. Besides, word was received that in western North Dakota, western South Dakota and practically all of the better producing sections of Montana, wheat crop conditions are about as bad as they ever have been during any previous period this time of year.

At the close, wheat was ¼ off to 5-8 up compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.22 1-8 to 1.22¼, July 1.15 5-8 to 1.15 3-4, September 1.14½ to 1.14 5-8, corn 1-8 to 2 7-8 down, May 1.25¼ to 1.25½, July 1.15½ to 1.15 5-8, September 1.06½ to 1.06 5-8, oats showing 1-8 to 5-8 decline, May 45½ to 45 5-8, and rye ¼ to 1 cent advanced, May 1.09¼. In provisions, the outcome varied from unchanged figures to 37 cents bulge.

Oats dropped to a new low price level for the season, September 38 3-4 cents. A total of 322,000 bushels of oats will be delivered here tomorrow on May contracts.

Rye advanced in the late dealings. Purchases of 500,000 bushels of rye for shipment to Portugal were noted.

Provisions rose with hog values. Lard exporters cleared big shipments of lard to London and Antwerp.

BY STEPHEN DICKINSON
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 12 (AP)—The bond market slowed down to a shuffle today as the coronation closed British markets and a further recession by U. S. government loans held investors to the sidelines.

Domestic corporate issues moved in shallow troughs with a few more losses than gains shown by active liens. Indifference also hobbled foreign bonds.

Turnover for all bonds totalled $7,836,000, face amount, compared with $9,144,000 Tuesday.

In the federal division a general decline carried active loans off 1-32 to 11-32 of a point.

"Katy" 5s lost a point to 78, North Western 4¾s dipped ½ to 18½, New Haven 6s fell 1 3-8 to 65 7-8 and Western Pacific 5s lost 7-8 to 34 1-8. Gulf Coast Lines certificates for the "A" and "B" 5s also lost ground. The Associated Press averages for 20 rail bonds dipped .1 of a point to 93.9. The 10 utilities fell .2 of a point to 98.8, while the industrial group held even.

Low yield corporate loans edged higher with bonds of Anaconda, Santa Fe, Bethlehem and Northern Pacific adding fractions.

POWERS

Club Notes

Powers, Mich.—The Food and Nutrition club held its fifth and final meeting at the Alfred Lebeouf home. Plans were made for the club's attendance at the Achievement Day Program to be held at Wallace on May 18th. A meeting was held a week ago at the Karl Behrend home, at which time officers were elected for the ensuing year. The list follows: Chairman, Mrs. Edna Corriveau, leaders, Mrs. Roland Larsen, Mrs Evelyn Fezatte, secretary, Mrs. Theo. Fazer.

Mother's Day Program

The program held in the Powers hall, Sunday evening, was a decided success. To say the flower-garden was beautiful, does not portray a pretty enough picture. The children in vivid colored costumes completed the setting of the lovely "Mother's Flower Garden". Mrs. Fezatte as "Mother" and tiny Janice Dubois as "baby the picture. This was little Miss Janice's first stage appearance.

Cubs Make It Six Over Bees; Tigers Rained Out

ROOT REGISTERS FIRST 1937 WIN

Only Scores Come from Two Homers; Boston Loses 6 to 2

Boston, May 12. (AP)—Two home runs availed the Boston Bees little today as they dropped their sixth consecutive game to the Chicago Cubs by a 6-2 margin. Charley Root, veteran righthander, held the home forces to five hits, including circuit drives by Gene Moore and Tony Cuccinello, while chalking up his first 1937 triumph.

Moore and Cuccinello poled out their mighty drives in the sixth inning but the home-run pacer was the Cubs' Ripper Collins, who slapped one of Johnny Lanning's offerings into the right field stands after Linus Frey singled in the fourth inning.

The Cubs added three more counters in the fifth when, with two out, George Stainback, Root, Augie Galan and Frey singled in order. Their final run was made against Vic Frasier, who relieved Lanning, in the eighth and was provided by Galan's second single, Frey's sacrifice and Collins' one-base drive.

As Highland Fairways Turn Green

Escanaba golfers have been rushing to the links after work the last few days, lured by the freshness of the fairways. A foursome at the Highland club is shown above holing in on No. 1 green. Members of the party are (left to right) Clarence Zerbel, Dr. H. J. Miller, Miss Myrtle Beatson and Mrs. Zerbel. Yes, she made the put.

SPILLING the DOPE

BY JOHNNY INKSLINGER

Following are observations of Hap Willoughby of the Iron Mountain News on the opening of the NM-W baseball season:

"L'Anse posted its $25 franchise fee yesterday with Leland Riley, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Wisconsin-Michigan Baseball league . . . The action made certain L'Anse's intention of remaining in the circuit and playing out the Menominee schedule it took over in an eleventh-hour membership change last week-end . . . No board of directors meeting has been called to ratify the Copper Country team's admission, but the switch appears to be agreeable to the majority of the league members . . . Expressions of approval have been obtained from all but Escanaba . . . The dock city team may object because of the greater distance involved in trips to L'Anse than to Menominee . . . L'Anse was admitted by President S. A. Donovan who has broad power to act for the welfare of the league when emergencies arise.

—o—

"Most pleased by admission of L'Anse was South Range . . . L'Anse and the Rangers are neighbors and can now renew an old rivalry within the NW-M wheel . . . Crystal Falls, too, approves because L'Anse is closer to the Iron county city than Menominee . . . Also, Crystal Falls was never strong for Menominee . . . The Ford Twins and Niagara Badgers are pleased at the change because both believe L'Anse will provide better competition than the border liners . . . This would mean larger gate receipts, a prime consideration throughout the circuit.

—o—

"The $25 forfeited by Menominee when it withdrew has been left in the league treasury . . . Riley is uncertain what will be done with it, as it is the first forfeiture in league history and entirely without precedent . . . He thinks it may be divided up at the end of the season . . . Harlan Bromley, former Iron Mountain third sacker, is playing that position with Kenosha in the Wisconsin State league and acting as field captain for his team . . . Joe Hauser, former minor league home run king who is this year managing and playing first base for Sheboygan, could have been had by the Ford Twins . . . But Hauser wanted $225 a month for 12 months a year, which explains why he is still at Sheboygan . . . Kaukauna, managed by Howard Bowers, formerly of the old Kingsford V-8's got off to a fast start in the Northern State league Sunday with a 6-2 victory over Manitowoc . . . Bowers played left field instead of hurling as he was billed.

—o—

"Pilot Ed Kreitzer, of the Ford Twins is as superstitious as baseball men come . . . Sunday, when the Twins were leading 5-0 with two men away in the ninth and two strikes on the last batter, the bat boy started putting the Twins' assortment of clubs away . . . Kreitzer ordered him to dump them back out on the ground, explaining that "It is bad luck to put the bats away before a game is over, and I don't want to lose this one." . . . Another humorous episode in that battle at Escanaba occurred when an Escanaba runner was on first base, Gober was trying to pick him off . . . Kircher took a snap throw, applied the ball while the runner was still a couple feet off the bag and then started what looked like a wrestling match with the Escanaban . . . The runner was trying to force his way back to the sack, Kircher was trying to prevent it and both were pawing in the dust between and beneath them . . . What actually happened was that Kircher dropped the ball and the runner grabbed it and held it away from the first baseman . . . The strategy worked, too, for the runner was called safe.

—o—

"All the makings for a brother act were at the Escanaba contest, but it failed to materialize . . . Kircher's brother was in uniform with Escanaba but rode the bench all afternoon . . . The official nickname of the South Range team is "Eagles." . . . After writing the name of Eino Juntunen scores of times we learn that he spells the latter part of his handle like that, instead of with an "a" after the "t" . . . "Peck's Kolehmainen, South Range pitcher who saw action at Niagara Sunday, is one of the youngest players in the circuit . . . He is only 18 years old . . . Despite the deluge of errors, Niagara was encouraged in its opener by the hitting of its newcomers . . . Shortstop Wells got three for four, plenty good any day of the year, and First Sacker Collins poled out a two-bagger . . . Manager Roy Brown used ten Badgers and every one of them got at least one hit, something out of the ordinary even for slugfests.

—o—

"The trio of NW-M openers dished up a little of about everything the game of baseball has to offer . . . Included were: a two-hit pitching job (Gobers'); a 32-hit game (Niagara-South Range); a 28-strikeout game (Escanaba-twins); two homers (Schultz, of the Twins, and Bailey, of the Rangers); six double plays; two perfect fielding jobs (L'Anse and Escanaba); a 10-error game (Niagara); a protest (Crystal Falls-unofficial as yet); a game in which the outfield made but three putouts and no assists (Escanaba); and 44 men stranded on bases (all games)."

THE BIG SIX

(By The Associated Press)

By clouting two homers and two doubles in five times at bat, Ducky Medwick, the Cardinal slugger, boosted his batting average 25 points to .442 and regained the National League hitting lead yesterday. With all three leaders in the American League idle because of rain, the performances of Medwick and Al Todd of the Pittsburgh Pirates created the only changes in baseball's "Big Six." Todd had two hits in four chances to go into a tie for second place in the National League, as Ival Goodman of the Reds, league leader the previous day, went hitless in four times up and dropped to fourth place.

Standings of the leaders (first three in each league):

The schedule for next week is as follows:

NEWSOM WILD; SOX WIN, 13-5

Nine Runs Scored in First Four Innings With Senators

Chicago, May 12 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox took advantage of Buck Newsom's wildness today to pile up a big early lead and trounce Washington, 13 to 5, in the first game of the series. It was their fourth victory in five games.

Mixing Zeke Bonura's fourth home run of the season and three other hits with seven passes, the Sox scored seven runs before Newsom was removed in the fourth inning. They added two more before Carl Fischer could retire the side in the same session, and compiled their four final runs in the eighth off Joe Cascarella on six hits, including a home run inside the park by Mike Kreevich.

Vernon Kennedy; although wild, coasted to his second victory of the season behind the 12-hit barrage. He walked six men and yielded eight hits, one a homer by Joe Kuhel. Bonura led the attack on the trio of Senator hurlers with a pair of time singles in addition to his homer.

Newsom walked five batters in the first inning, in which the White Sox scored three runs with tthe aid of only one hit, a single by Bonura.

The victory moved the White Sox up a notch in the American league standing, passing the idle St. Louis Browns to go into sixth place on a percentage basis, although they were virtually tied on a won and lost count.

PAR-agraphs

Ted Ray and Joe Turnesa were the victims of putts of an inch.

The late Ray lost the Hertfordshire county championship of England, which he held for four years, as the result of a decidedly freak shot. Near the end of a round, an approach putt stopped an inch from the hole, and in an attempt to tap the ball into the cup with one hand, the celebrated British professional jabbed his putter into the ground, missing the pellet entirely.

Turnesa's failure to sink a one-inch put in a Pinehurst tournament was charged to sand greens, now eliminated from the championship course of the North Carolina resort. Knowing the danger of holing out on sand greens, the elder of the Westchester Turnesas tapped the sphere carefully. A bare edge of the cup was sticking out of the sand. The ball struck the rim and bounded back.

When the putt is for a birdie, golfers line it up carefully, survey the terrain from ball to cup—take all precautions. Then on the following hole, with a short putt confronting them, they frequently throw away this stroke by carelessly tapping the short one with one hand.

This is one of the commonest faults.

It is surprising how many short putts are missed.

PIRATES CROWN GIANTS, 6 AND 5

League Pennant Hoisted; Hubbell Gets Valuable Player Award

BY ALAN GOULD

New York, May 12 (AP)—The New York Giants held their own coronation ceremony today, with a band, parade and formal hoisting of the 1936 National League pennant, but the visiting Pittsburgh Pirates "crowned" them, 6 to 5, in the subsequent ball game, before a crowd of 12,018 customers.

The pace-setting Bucs twice came from behind to take the lead. They took turns belting two southpaws, Cliff Melton and Al Smith, and made their second rally stick with the aid of splendid relief pitching by Bill Swift in the last three frames.

Swift replaced Joe Bowman, ex-Giant right-hander, after Dick Bartell walked to start the home half of the seventh. Lou Chiozza's sacrifice put the tying run on second base but Swift forced Joe Moore and Mel Ott to miss the third strike. The Pirate rescue flinger retired all nine batsmen he faced but credit for the victory went to his predecessor.

It was Bowman's fourth triumph, against no defeats, as well as the fifth in a row for the Pirates, who have now captured nine out of their last ten games. Pie Traynor's swashbuckling crew holds a lead of three and a half games over the second-place Cardinals.

Two unearned runs, due to wild throws by Handley and Dickshot, sent the giants away to a two-run lead in the third but the Bucs batted around against Melton with a four-run spurt in the fourth. Suhr's double was the loudest of four hits, which were combined with two passes and a double steal by Paul Waner and John Dickshot.

The Giants came back to score three runs in the fifth, with two out, on four hits and an error by Bill Brubaker. Joe Moore's single tallied two but Ott, still in a big slump, failed with runners on first and third.

A pass to Paul Waner, a double by Arky Vaughan and Al Todd's single produced the tying and winning runs in the seventh.

Pre-game incidents included a slightly twisted ankle for Cy Blanton, right-handed ace of the Pirates, and presentation of the 1936 most valuable player award to Carl Hubbell of the Giants by the National Baseball Writers' association. Bartell hit safely for his 14th consecutive game.

Batting Leaders Find Tough Going This Year

Washington, May 12 (AP)—Major league batting leaders of other years are finding base hits few and far between this season.

Of the eleven former American and National league hitting champions now active in the big show only one regular—Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates—was slugging the ball at better than a .300 pace, on the basis of records compiled at the end of Tuesday's games.

Waner, who topped the senior circuit in 1927, 1934 and 1936, has a fancy average of .359. Rogers Hornsby, who led the National league seven times, is hitting .357. However, the Rajah is dividing the second base assignment for the St. Louis Browns with Tom Carey.

Buddy Myer, the Washington second sacker who set the American league pace in 1935 and was out most of last season because of illness, has an even .300.

The others are having hard sledding.

Floyd Vaughan, Pittsburgh's 1935 leader, has a .290 mark, while Chuck Klein of the Phillies, who led in 1933, has an average of .278.

Luke Appling, the Chicago shortstop who wore the American league crown last season, is hitting .283. Lou Gehrig, the big gun of the Yankees and baseball's highest salaried player, has run into a slump that brought his average down to .254.

Jimmy Foxx of Boston, the 1933 American king, got off to a late start and is hitting only .166. Goose Goslin of Detroit, the 1928 winner, has played irregularly and his average is an even .200. Al Simmons, who was in front in 1930-31, is hitting .172 with Washington.

Heinie Manush, the American league veteran who led in 1926 and is paying with Brooklyn in the National loop this year, has .271.

SOUTH RANGE IS NEXT OPPONENT

Local Team Preparing for Second Game on Home Diamond

Quite undismayed over the 5-0 defeat at the hands of the strong Kingsford-Iron Mountain Twins in the season's opener, the Escanaba baseball team has been working out this week in preparation for the invasion of South Range here Sunday.

Team officials and local fans were well pleased with the work of the team in its opening game despite the defeat. The team gave a good exhibition of defensive baseball and was not altogether to blame for not pounding out numerous hits for they were pitted against Specs Gober, one of the finest pitchers in the league.

Some shifts are in the making in an effort to get added batting punch but, on the whole, it is not likely that any drastic change will be made in the team line-up. Brazeau, Greenless and Oseen will be available for mound duty and final selection as to the starting hurler will be deferred until game time in order to find which one is in best condition.

In South Range, the local team will be meeting another newcomer to the NM-W league. However, the mining range team has been considered the best in the copper country for several years and gave Niagara a hard battle in the opener last week before succumbing by one run in a slugfest.

Sunday's game will be the second in a row on the home lot and officials have made preparations to handle a larger crowd than that which witnessed the opener. Additional bleachers will be installed to care for the increase in fans expected.

New York, May 12 (AP)—Katherine Rawls of Miami Beach, Adolf Kiefer of Chicago, John Higgins of Providence and Elbert Root of Detroit will make up the American swimming team which will compete in Japan this summer, Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Atehletic Union, announced today.

Medwick Hits Two Over The Fence As Cards Win, 15 and 3

Philadelphia, May 12. (AP)—The Cardinals defeated the Phillies 15-3 today, routing three Philadelphia hurlers with 20 hits, including three home runs, two triples and six doubles.

Ducky Medwick and Pepper Martin led the assault with four hits each. Medwick hit two home runs, one a powerful blast over the left field wall, duplicating a feat heretofore accomplished only by Cliff Lee, Wally Berger and Jimmy Foxx.

Earl Grace and Brusie Ogrodowski also walloped round trippers.

Orville Jorgens, right-hand pitcher for the Phillies, was injured in the sixth inning and had to be helped off the field.

Score by innings:

Pitchers Included In Trout Purchase

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—The Tigers will send George Gill or Pat McLaughlin to Indianapolis this week to complete the deal for Paul Howard Trout. All are rookie pitchers.

Detroit paid $15,000 and two pitchers for Trout. One pitcher, Clarence (Red) Phillips, was turned over immediately.

Trout now is with Toledo in the American Association but is subject to recall by Detroit.

AUKER SLATED ON HILL TODAY

Home Game Will Be Last One for Detroit Until May 28

Detroit, May 12 (AP)—Manager Mickey Cochrane, after today's game with Boston was washed out, selected Elden Auker to pitch for the Detroit Tigers tomorrow in the final home game until May 28.

The Tigers were leading, 1 to 0, when play was halted after two innings because of a driving rain. After half an hour's wait, it was still raining and the game was postponed.

Auker, who has not won since the opening game of the season, will be opposed by Wesley Ferrell, Red Sox righthander.

The lone score came in the first inning after singles by White and Rogell. Gehringer flied out to R. Ferrell. Then Hank Greenberg, with both runners in motion, lined a single to left, scoring White and sending Rogell to third.

Gerald Walker flied out to Almada and when Rogell tried to score, he was called out at the plate. Boston had a man on base in both innings, but failed to score.

Rogell's misjudgment of Cramer's fly to left permitted the ball to drop for a double, Boston's only hit off Jake Wade. The game started as something of a pitching duel between the lefthanders, Wade and Robert Moses Grove, the perennial Tiger nemesis.

Catcher George Ebbetts appeared in the game for the first time this year as Wade's battery mate. He batted eighth. Rogell was Detroit's No. 2 batter.

After tomorrow's game, the Tigers will open a three-game series at St. Louis, followed by games at Philadelphia, Boston, Washington and New York before returning to Navin Field.

Spree In Seventh Gives Dodgers 5-1 Win Over The Reds

Brooklyn, May 12 (AP)—It took Brooklyn's Dodgers six innings to find out what sort of pitching magic rookie Lloyd Moore was using, but when they did, they belted him and the Cincinnati Reds for a 5 to 1 victory with a seventh-inning scoring spree.

The victory was the Dodgers' third straight and kept them in the first division.

For six innings, Moore and Max Butcher hooked up in a tight pitching duel. Moore held Brooklyn to two hits in that stretch while the Reds got to Butcher for their lone run in the fifth on Phil Weintraub's triple and Frank McComick's fly.

In the seventh, however, Moore weakened and Brooklyn scored all their runs, belting the Red rookie out and finishing up against veteran Don Brennan.

OIL PRODUCTION BOARD CREATED

Teacher Retirement and Governor's Salary Bills Prepared

Lansing, May 12 (AP)—A bill creating an advisory board, armed with broad powers to regulate the crude oil production industry in Michigan and pro-rate the amounts withdrawn from wells, received approval of the house of representatives today.

Attempts by Rep. Elton R. Eaton, Republican, Plymouth, to eliminate the enforcement features of the bill were snowed under in the voting, and the measure went through in the form desired by its introducer, Rep. Edward H. Fenlon, Democrat, St. Ignace.

The advisory board, which would be appointed by the director of conservation, would have power to regulate the daily production of crude oil from Michigan wells, and to limit the withdrawals from individual wells. The board also would have authority to forbid the drilling of additional wells where it believed this would be injurious to the oil fields.

The measure would assess a "privilege fee" of one-eighth of a cent a barrel on oil produced in Michigan. It goes to the senate for concurrence.

Deer Hunter Bill Lost

A bill which would exempt insurance benefits from garnishments also advanced to the senate with house approval.

The house defeated a measure which would have made delinquent water taxes liens against real estate, and another which would have held deer hunters failing to report game law violations equally guilty with the person committing the offense.

The Glass resolution to raise the governor's salary to $15,000 a year, instead of the $5,000 salary plus $5,000 expense account now provided, was released from the house constitutional revision committee. The same committee also released the Stout-O'Dell resolution which would provide for annual legislative sessions, to deal alternately with financial affairs and regular business.

The ways and means committee reported out a bill which would pledge the state to unlimited expenditures to maintain a teachers retirement fund at a $2,000,000 level. It faced an uncertain fate. Rep. Vernon J. Brown, Republican, Mason, and some other legislators opposed the lack of limitation on the state's share of the fund. After an original $235,000 contribution in the first year's operation of the pension for retired teachers, the state would be required to supply the difference between the teachers contributions to the fund and the amount withdrawn from it.
